Supper for Two.

When the dreary old world goes wrong
And your heart is sad and lonely,
Just hie to the maid of the bonny blue eye,
And the pretty brown hair and the

dear little sigh,
That the heaven for you only,
Aye, it's woman we need when the skies are drear,

And it's ho for the lassie that's true,
With the woman you love and a bottle of beer,

And a neat little supper for two

Hurroo!

What more do we need in the world

than a girl,
And a neat little supper for two?

When the stingy old stingy old world is dark,

And the heart is sigh to bursting,
Gaze into the eyes of a bonny young lass,

And drain every bottle and fill every glass,

For the soul is sad for thirsting;
So it's throw to the Devil the world and its care

And heedless of vows untrue,
First empty the bottle, then cork the

dear
With a neat little supper for two, Hurroo!

What more do we need in the world

than a girl,
And a neat little supper for two?

Dr. Howard's Walnut and Pecan Trees.

DAHLONEGA, GA. Oct. 24, 1900.

Two of my young English walnut trees, about eleven years old bore walnuts this year; also, two young pecan trees, being the same age bore pecans this year. These are the first pecan and English walnut trees of my planting that have born fruit.

The English walnut trees had been transplanted, but the pecans have not. These trees in this climate we think, when properly cared for will bear fruit in ten to twelve years, especially if grown in the hill where planted.

All the pecans in this section when transplanted have not born fruit under the age of seventeen years.

N. F. HOWARD.

Who would have thought that the luscious and healthful apple would ever appear in the role of a purveyor of typhoid germ? Such is stated to be the case, however, at the Susquehanna Valley Orphan's

Home, Binghamton, N. Y.,

where twenty seven cases of typhoid fever have developed as the result of eating apples contributed by some charitably disposed person.

It is to be hoped that such a charge against the apparently innocent apple will not be substantiated.—

DAHLONEGA METHODIST CHURCH.

The Methodist Church, Dahlonega, Ga.

In the year 1835 the people called

Methodists were encouraged and stimulated in their christian work by the presence of a regular pastor among them. The Georgia

Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which had existed nearly fifty years in the state, appointed Henry P. Pitchford to the Dahlonega Mission in 1835, being the first preacher sent to this charge. In 1836 John D.

Chappell was sent. W. S. Williams sent in 1837. Winsor Graham sent in 1838. In 1839 D. L. Bal-

low and J. B. Jackson. W. S. Williams and Reubin Oslin in 1840. During these first years such men as

W. J. Parks and J. Walker Glenn were presiding elders. The best information that can be obtained

Henry P. Pitchford first organized the church in 1835. The class was in part the following persons: Millegan P. Quillian, Mrs. Sarah Corbin, Mrs. Milley D. Worley, Mrs.

John Donaldson, Mrs. Bird and her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Killian.

Other names not known at present.

In the obituary written by

Rev. B. F. Frasier in 1894, of Milligan P. Quillian it is stated that he, when a young man and one other person built the first Methodist church in Dahlonega at an expense of $250 to each of them.

In the year 1839, Dec. 7, a deed was made in fee simple to a lot of land in Dahlonega to the Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church upon which to build a house of worship. About the year

1840 a church house was erected

40 by 30 feet. As early as the year

1853 there was twenty feet added and well plastered making the house 60 by 30, in which the Methodists of Dahlonega still worship.

In 1899, during the pastoral of W.

T. Hunnicutt, the church was remodelled and improved. The shade trees were planted around the church by Dr. M. F. Stephenson.

This was then called the Cherokee district and extended from

Newman, Coweta county, to

Clarksville, Ga. Dr. J. Walker

Glenn was the presiding elder in charge of the district.

In 1848 Rev. Wm. A. Smith, assisted by J. D. Anthony, held a most remarkable revival. There were many conversions and accessions to the church. In 1850 Rev.

Geo. Bright conducted a revival meeting in which over one hundred persons joined the church.

In all these years the church at Dahlonega has been noted for the revival spirit which has pervaded the membership.

The building of a new church which is much needed, is now being planned and before many years we hope to see such a church building as will be a credit to the great

Methodist church and to our community.

During the war Rev. B. W. Big-ham was presiding elder and since the war the Dahlonega District has been served by such men as

Rev. W. T. Caldwell, W. A. Simmons, W. A. Dodge, J. W. Stipe,

A. C. Thomas, W. A. Candler, W.

R. Branham, Jr., M. J. Cofer, M.

L. Underwood and Ellison R.

Cook. Among the pastors we recall Revs. Goodman Hughes, Jno.

D. Hammond, W. R. Foote, J. R.

King, C. V. Jamison, W. F. Quil-

lian, C. V. Weathers, W. A. Parks,

Duncan M. Edwards, Geo. Stone,

W. T. Hunnicutt, W. H. Cooper

and C. M. Verdel.

Several of the pastors at Dah-lonega were made presiding elders of the Dist., among them was

A. C. Thomas, W. A. Dodge and

W. R. Branham, Jr. Since the establishment of the church at Dahlonega in 1835 there has been no vacancy in the living ministry up to the present time, but the man of God has come and gone in and out before the people strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.

A Good Man Gone.

DAHLONEGA, GA.,

Oct. 19, 1900.

Enclosed find this short, interesting and complimentary letter of my dear friend, Rev. R. W. Big-ham of the North Georgia Conference who superannated two years ago and after writing this card to me Sept. 29, was suddenly by heart failure called to his home and rewarded above Oct. 11.

I knew him well and long as one of the best men. He was presiding elder at Dahlonega when the civil war began between the states.

When soldiers enlisted to go to the war, and were ready to leave he addressed the companies with sympathetic advice as a brother soldier and pointed out the trials and hardships of a soldiers life and the duties of a Georgia soldier in this great strife laid out before them.

Again when this noble man met of the forenoon his fellow man his eloquence addresses and knowledge of statesmanship and the doctrines of liberty underlying free government classed him as a pier of his fellow, and again when you met him in the circles religious and social life with his genial manners, his affability, his sweet temper and kind words, for all showed that he was without a superior among the refined and educated of any company. Go with him again among the poor, illiterate, sick, oppressed, needy and those in trouble and see his kindness and sympathy and gracious prayers and good advice and words of grace and gifts in money and otherwise to feed the hungry and supply the necessities of the needy and poor, and you can but exclaim: "See an Israelite included in whom there is no guile."

Go with me to the Lords Temple, and see brother Bigham again as a minister of the Kingdom of Christ, and hear his address in reference to this kingdom with his great preparation as he explains it in all its relations from the beginning to the end in regard to its appreciations to the redemption and reform of man with all his fluency eloquence and power, and kindling burning words and all seem to be drawn to him and led to accept the kingdom, and are ready to say that this is a teacher and prophet indeed, and so he has been accounted since a young man in 1844 up to 1900, he has been preaching the word and building upon the foundation and teaching hundreds of others to do the same. He was loved by all who knew him, in our town and throughout this district.

I met him again in 1894 at Madison, Ga. at his home. He was then

P. E. of the Athens district I think

I made his house my home with him and family for a month or more while on duty there. And this was quite an oasis in time of war. He and family was so kind and good to me, gave me such a large and free christian welcome.

May the Lord bless and keep all these in this life and bring them to

His blessed kingdom in the life to come. Will the NUGGET please publish the note of Bro. Bigham

with this communication of mine and much oblige? N. F. HOWARD.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 2, 1900.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Mr. Bryan made thirty speeches in the state of New York last Monday.

Next Tuesday is the election for President and Congressmen in Georgia.

Adjutant General Phil Byrd wants to disband negroes soldiers. He says they are no good.

The Filipino rebels recently cut out the tongues of some natives because they were friendly to the Americans.

Every one will rejoice to know that the great coal strike in Pennsylvania is off, and the laborers are returning to work.

Daniel Matthews, of Jackson county, who is 70 years of age, was fined $350 last week and cost for brutally whipping an eleven year-old boy last spring.

A bill is before the legislature now to amend an act so as to have the governor appoint superior court judges and solicitors with the consent of the senate.

The hunting season according to law began on the first of this month. But little attention is paid to this law in this section, most every one killing what they see and can at all seasons of the year.

A bill has been introduced in the Georgia legislature to prevent the manufacture, sale or giving away of cigarettes in Georgia. If it passes children will have to smoke pipes.

The official vote of the Governors election has been declared by the legislature. There were a little less than 114,000 votes polled. Gov. Candler received 90,445 and his Populist opponent got 23,335. Candler's majority was 67,210. Governor Candler ran nearly 4,000 votes behind the ticket.

The United States grand jury in Atlanta has returned thirteen true bills against former postmasters and carriers in Polk and Paulding counties, charging conspiracy to defraud the government. It is claimed that the defendants gave away stamps in order to cancel them and sent bulk packages through the offices. It is said that a dog was sent in this way and that pieces of pine bark were stamped and mailed.

A suit for $50,000 damages for breach of promise against United States Senator William V. Sullivan of Mississippi was filed in the District of Columbia supreme court last Friday by Mai Lucy Lorton of Oxford, Miss. The plaintiff in her affidavit alleges that she, an unmarried woman, at the request of the defendant, undertook and promised to marry him and the defendant undertook and promised to marry the plaintiff, which he refused to do or right, has without cause or right, has refused to do.

Dollie Hood, a young orphan white girl, residing three miles from Harmony Grove, was outraged one day last week by a black fiend, Geo. Fellow. While she was out in a turnip patch near a quarter of a mile from home. The negro after telling the girl that he would kill her if she ever breathed it left out. The negro has since been captured near Athens and carried to Atlanta to keep from being lynched. His head ought to have been removed from his body without further trouble or delay.

Ben Hill, a negro man who worked at Hall's Villa in Dahlonega while last summer, attempted to commit suicide in Gainesville jail the other day by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and cost or serve twelve months in the chain gang and being unable to raise the money, the fine was up and he preferring to go to the happy hunting ground rather than to the chain gang, grabbed up a razor and raked it across his throat, cutting his head nearly half off.

Mining Notes.

The Calhoun, being run by W. Anderson, is showing up well and a big clean up is being expected this week, the result of which we hope to be able to give you in our next.

Wm. Armstrong, who is placer mining down on the Calhoun property cleaned up last week after a run of fifteen or sixteen days and made 60 pennyweights liking ten grains. This does very well for an old man.

Robert Poston is still making good money down on the river at the Calhoun. His vein struck some time ago still holds out rich. He has no mill but crushes the ore in a mortar and makes from fifty to sixty pennyweights a week.

The work down at the Hand has been somewhat retarded this week on account of some portion of the air drill breaking, but the parts have been made good and everything is moving along smoothly again. The managers have too much vim and energy for their work to stop long.

Mr. Ashley, of Toledo, Ohio, who came here some time ago to test the bed of the Yahoola river running through the property of the Findley mine, belonging to the Consolidated Co., with an eye to putting in a small dredge boat if it would pay, returned to Dahlonega from the north last week, who, it is reported, will begin the work soon provided he can make suitable arrangements with those owning the property.

The ridge from the Findley to the Barlow mine, including Crown Mountain, the Capps and other lots owned by different parties, is among the best if not the richest mineral lands in Lumpkin county. This ridge is the main backbone of the gold belt of Lumpkin. It is so rich that you take up a pan of the soil from any part of the mountain and find gold, saying nothing of the rich veins that have been struck on the Crown Mountain, Findley and Capps.

The affairs of the Crown Mountain Co. are moving along smoothly and rapidly toward a successful completion of the mill and power plant. The big water wheel which arrived some time ago, is being placed in position at the lower end of the canal, the work is being constructed by F. N. Smith, of the Sitwell Biore-Smith Valve Co., of Dayton, O., makers of the wheel. The wheel is of the turbine type and will develop some seven hundred horse power from the water, space being left for putting in an additional seven hundred horse power wheel. It will be connected direct to a five hundred Kilowatt dynamo which will deliver the full power to the machinery at the mill and pumping station at Crown Mountain, some twelve miles from the generating station with only a slight loss. This high efficiency in transmitting the power is attained by using the tremendous electrical pressure of twelve thousand volts. The copper wire for the transmission line has arrived and will be rapidly put in position on the pole line, and another car load of wire will arrive this week. A full force of carpenters are engaged in framing the timbers for the mill house which will be situated a short distance below the lake supplying water to the stamps. Large quantities of machinery is on the way and being shipped, and things are rapidly taking shape under the direction of J. E. Tate, the general manager, and F. P. Catchings, engineer for the company. When the grants begin to get in their work on the rich sapolite of Crown Mountain and the stamps dropping mining matters around Dahlonega will go forward with rapid strides. The officers of the Crown Mountain Co. realize that mining operations should be conducted on the basis of a practical and legitimate business, and from the economical manner in which the finances of the company are being managed a successful career is assured.

Wants to Know the Real Editor of the Signal.

—FROGTOWN, Oct. 29.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you tell me through your paper who the real editor of the Signal is? I have supposed all along that it was Capt. Woodward, but as he is now serving on the board of registrars as a populist, and noticing in the last issue of the Signal that that paper was opposed to electing any body but democrats, even in the city election, but does not refuse to take money for subscription from populists or republicans, I thought that it could not be him. In looking over your city digest I find that the democrats do not pay the majority of the taxes. Then why should they hold all the offices? Some years ago Capt. Frank W. Hall was mayor and made one of the best mayors the city ever had, and I could name several others who have made as good mayor and aldermen with credit who were not democrats. The editor of the Signal flopped some time ago and run for an office and was defeated. It cannot be that he has flopped again for office and wants to be alderman from his ward in the next city council and wants to keep all out but democrats. Or it may be that little Billie, who is writing these little political squibs. If that be true I would advise the editor to take him over his knees and spank him if he can find any thing to spank in those big trousers he wears. In summing up the whole thing it seems that this big democratic organ is composed of two parts—a goose's head and a jackass' tail. POPULIST.

This picture is the trade mark of SCOTT'S EMULSION, and is on every bottle of SCOTT'S EMULSION in the World, which now amounts to many millions yearly. This great business has grown to such vast proportions.

First—Because the proprietors have always been most careful in selecting the various ingredients used in its composition, namely: the finest Cod Liver Oil, and the purest Hypophosphites.

Second—Because they have so skillfully combined the various ingredients that the best possible results are obtained by its use.

Third—Because it has made so many sickly, delicate children strong and healthy, given health and rosy cheeks to so many pale, anemic girls, and healed the lungs and restored to full health, so many thousands in the first stages of Consumption.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. Six and twelve; all druggists.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 2, 1900.

Capt. Hall now occupies his new residence.

The son of Hon. F. C. Tate is improving and will soon be well.

All the Ducktown miners have quit work at the Consolidated.

Country produce still continues to bring a good price in Dahlonega.

Councilman Crisson's new business house will soon be ready for occupancy.

Col. Baker has been attending the Grand Lodge of Masons in Macon this week.

Dr. Ham, of Gainesville, came up last Sunday to see Capt. F. W. Hall's sick baby.

T. F. Jackson's new residence is completed and he and his family are now "at home."

Willis Woody, who went from this county to the Indian T. 23 years ago is here on a short visit.

"Shotgun" Walker informs us that he had a mess of green beans and roasting ears for dinner last Sunday.

Lost.—A Mackintosh overcoat. The finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at the store of Anderson & Jones.

Mrs. J. M. Brooksher has just opened up a fine line of ladies trimmed hats. Call and get her prices before buying.

If you have lost anything, or have an article to sell or rent place an ad. in the NUGGET and you will be sure to find it profitable.

Miss Kerr, a sister of Charlie Kerr, that clever young man, who sells goods at the Union Store Co., is here on a visit from Tennessee.

The Crown Mountain Co's new assay office is now completed and Mr. Cataling, an experienced gentleman in the business is in charge.

It is raining as we go to press and looks as if the college boys will have a very disagreeable time to attend the oratorical contest in Atlanta.

The city council met Wednesday night and raised the quarantine against those living across the river, who can come and go when they get ready, as the scarlet fever over there is believed to be a thing of the past.

By perusing this paper you will find the ad. of B. R. Meaders & Sons, who represent one of the best clothing houses in the south, and will take your measure and fit you up with a nice suit so cheap that you will be surprised. Besides this they deal in all kinds of goods at prices that will certainly astonish you.

As there seems to be quite a lot of temperance workers in Dahlonega let us see how many votes the prohibition candidate for the Presidency gets next Tuesday. Show your faith by your work. And this will be a splendid opportunity. We believe the candidate running on this ticket at the last election got only four votes in Lumpkin county. Pretty slim showing in a county where a temperance society is kept up from year to year and numbers of them voters.

The pastor of the Methodist church gave the liquor drinkers a severe scolding during his discourse last Sunday night. Also criticised them for reading newspapers on Sunday. But it will have little effect unless their names are erased from the church book, for when church members get drunk it encourages outsiders who are inclined that way. Now as to reading newspapers on Sunday we don't believe it is any more harm than taking a drink of water. If people don't do more harm than read newspapers on Sunday, especially the NUGGET, they will have to enlarge the crown factory in order to supply the demand, for all will be there, except that preacher who recently made improper proposals to a Dawson county lady, who told on him and the Presiding Elder discharged the pulpit deceiver.

Miss Mary Lou Boatfield, after spending some time in Atlanta, returned home last week.

John A. Parker, who used to live in Dahlonega, but now located in Atlanta, has been here on a visit during the past few days, enjoying very good health considering his old age.

We could tell you who will be an applicant for the postoffice this week if Bryan is elected but will wait until after the "ball is over, and after the break of day." Then it will be time enough.

Marshall Harbison is determined to have light during dark nights. Having done away with the use of gasoline because the burners got so they would do no good and put in their steel kerosene lamps.

Two weddings occurred in Davis district last Sunday, being Mr. Charles Odum to Miss Biddie, a daughter of Mr. Rans Davis. And Mr. Tom Hutcheson to Miss Nannie Smith, a daughter of Mr. Joe Smith.

WANTED:—Help, good healthy stout girl, able to cook and accustomed to children, as general help. Good wages, comfortable home, christian surroundings.

Elsewhere you will find the ad. of J. E. Tate who is doing a successful business in the new Tate building in front of the Masonic Hall. He deals in a general line of goods, and is both clever and accommodating and will treat you right.

Upon investigation we find that Mr. Hutchins, mentioned in last week's paper, didn't go down to Mr. Watsons for the purpose of raising a row, but only came by for a friendly talk, which was suggested by his attorney. We merely make this correction because we mean to do justice to all.

When you desire the NUGGET don't send us less than 50 cents. If it don't suit you and you do not wish to continue taking it six months, drop us word or a note and we will refund the remainder of your money and erase your name from our book. But if you want it three months in the beginning send us 90 cents.

Your attention is directed to the new advertisement of The Matthews Drug Co. in this issue, run by W. E. Matthews, who is well known in this section, needing no comment from us. The large line of drugs and medicines he carries will enable him to supply anything you need in this line as cheap as the cheapest. Try him and be convinced, and you will be sure to call on him again.

On the first page you will find an interesting letter written by W. T. Westbrook from Alabama who used to reside in this county. After talking interestingly about the mineral resources of this and that state, gives the names of quite a number of persons who used to reside in Lumpkin county, some of whom have been gone from here many years and it was believed that they were dead.

We have not published our new list of subscribers for a month or so. They continue coming in but we will not take up any more space for a while. It is easy for newspaper men to say that their subscription list is increasing rapidly when likely they are not receiving a single new subscriber, and because others lie about the matter, we wanted to prove our assertion to be correct by giving names and addresses.

The little girls are being taught sewing at the Graded School. This is a very important work and will be of great benefit to each and every one in time to come. It is a good thing for children to learn to work whether they will have to do it when grown or not. No injury for them to know how and is a wise move for the one causing it to be adopted in this institution, which is accomplishing so much good among the young people of Dahlonega.

Mrs. H. D. Ingersoll is on a visit to White county this week.

Mayor Price has been absent some days again in Pike county.

The large number of college students in their new uniforms make a nice appearance. They are all well behaved and liked by all our citizens.

You can put up your hog in a pen as small as you please now within the corporate limits and not violate any ordinance until warm weather begins next year.

Corn shuckings are the order of the day now—or night rather—attended by many, who sing, crib the corn and eat slice potato pie. Oh what a happy time.

The colored Odd Fellows are building them a large commodious hall near the colored Methodist church where they will soon be ready to ride the goat on their own territory.

We arose before day last Monday morning to look for the morning star but didn't see it until our forehead struck a post. Then we saw three or four notwithstanding it was only two o'clock when we examined the clock.

FOR SALE.—Genuine bargain, 120 acre farm, $450. Excellent uplands and extensive branch bottoms well ditched and fenced, good country house and cook room, stable, &c., large orchard. Only 4 miles from town. Apply at NUGGET office.

James Walker split one of his feet open down at the Hand mine last Saturday with an ax. Prompt attention was given him by a physician at the expense of the Consolidated Co., who always care for any one getting hurt while at work for them, besides paying half wages until they recover which is a big help to a poor man.

Our city was made lively last Monday afternoon by the bright smiles and pleasant faces of twenty of the seminary girls of Gainesville, who hastened on down to the Consolidated Co's big plant to look around awhile before the sun disappeared behind the western hills. They all stopped at the Dahlonega Hotel.

Remember the NUGGET office is the place to get your job work turned out neat, cheap and prompt without having to send to Gainesville, Marietta or Atlanta. Business men should not expect any of our patronage. Remember that we are always talking for Dahlonega and asking every one to trade with their home merchants and druggists, and most certainly our efforts should be appreciated.

PUBLIC SALE.—Beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. next Monday I will offer for sale to the highest bidder at my house on Park Street, below W. S. Huffs, a good young couple, 1 Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine No. 9, improved, some bed stids, mattresses, bed springs, one cook stove, chairs, dining and center table, one kitchen safe and many other articles too tedious to mention. Be sure and be on hand if you want bargains.

ROBT. A. RAY.

"Tike" Edge, who resides up in Crumby's district, was in Dahlonega the other day telling City Marshal Harbison that he felt like a new man. For a long time he has been troubled with pains in the back and shoulders, gradually growing worse and worse and the old man made up his mind that he was going to die. So only a few days since he sent out for his good neighbors to come in and pray for him. It being but little trouble to them and no expense they complied with his request. The afflicted man joined them in prayer and in a little while he was perfectly easy—the pain having left him just like misery passes away after the extracting of a tooth. This faith cure will not be very pleasant information to the physicians, but they must not grumble because the Lord listened to their appeals and decided to take Mr. Edge's case into His own hands and lengthen the poor man's days on earth.

The young men gave the seminary girls a serenade Monday night and of course played their prettiest pieces.

Those letting their cows run out at night will do well to remember that the mayor has fixed the price for the first offense at seventy-five cents.

All the miners from Dahlonega who went to Ducktown recently to work, have returned. They are very much like bees, can't stand the smoke.

Capt. Maynes admires here, who were expecting him in from New York every day, regretted very much to learn this week that he is down sick in that city with pneumonia and there is no telling now when he will arrive.

The new corn liquor that is being brought to Dahlonega causes some who indulge to yell pretty loud and shoot off their little pistols at the dead hours of night. If Marshal Harbison catches up with them Mayor Price will lighten their pocketbooks which will cause them to be less noisy.

The supper and entertainment given at R. C. Thomsons Friday night for the benefit of Miss Annie Grimes and her music class was largely attended. Each pupil was permitted to invite one friend which caused it to be an occasion of pleasure and happiness for each and every one present.

Frank Lowery and Ed. Austin, both colored, about the only two negroes in Lumpkin county who voted the democratic ticket, went down last week to get a job when the legislature convened. Frank was acceptable but Ed. couldn't get in who returned and continues making a living by blowing the harp and blacking shoes. No doubt Ed. was made to believe just before he cast his ballot that he would have nothing to do but to go down at the proper time and hold the speakers gavel for him and receive $2.00 per day for his appearance and for such services.

The reader will observe by reading an article on the first page that the eating of too much fruit sometimes causes typhoid fever. We are not surprised in the least about this information. There is no doubt but what two cases originated in this city a few months ago this way. Filth does not cause fever every time. We know of parties residing in Dahlonega over 50 years old who we don't suppose ever even think about washing their hands or faces, and after putting on a suit wear it without any change until it drops from their bodies, who never get sick. Look at the scavenger wagon driver. He never gets sick but on the other hand is well and hearty and getting as fat as a pig with his jaws sticking out like a ground squirrel. Notwithstanding all this we prefer cleanliness and expect to continue washing our feet and changing our socks at least once a month.

The entertainment at the college last Monday evening by a portion of the pupils of the graded school was enjoyed by all present except the pupils who were slighted in the make up of the program and their parents and other relatives. The college chapel was crowded. The 20 seminary Gainesville girls were present who gave the college yell, which sounded very sweet coming from the lips of so many pretty girls. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for the purchasing of a large bell for the school house. The grievance which we have reference to is this: In the preparation of the program we are told that as many as three pupils from one family were selected to take a part in the exercises while not a single pupil from other families were selected. This favoritism should not exist, because it will cause those not among the selected to lose all interest in the school, not only the pupils but their parents. We do not know who is to blame for this unwise act, but if any explanation is desired to be made the columns of the NUGGET are open free of charge. The amount taken in was $30.50.

Fresh lot of candy, crackers and cheese at J. E. Tate's just received.

J. N. Twitty, of Gainesville, was in the city first of the week on business.

Some Union county officers have been over this week in search of witnesses who are needed in the Superior Court now in session in that county.

The college band is improving rapidly and the boys are "turning out" some splendid music already, although they have been practicing but a short time.

We understand that Mr. Love, of Toledo, Ohio, who spent several months in Dahlonega, was wedded to Mrs. John Hulson in Union county a few days ago.

Capt. Ingersoll informs us that he will leave for the north in a short while to look after and improve some valuable property recently purchased by him. Also some owned by his wife.

A bill will be introduced at this session appropriating $4,500 for a summer course at the State University for the common school teachers of the state who may wish to avail themselves of the opportunity.

H. D. Gurleys splendid store room will soon be completed. He will leave for New York in a few days he says for the purpose of filling it and selling at prices never before heard of in Dahlonega—being so low.

A negro knocked down a lady with a rock in Atlanta one night last week and relieved her of all the money she had on her person—$16. Those visiting the Gate City, either man or woman should keep a look out for these sneaks thieves.

Marshall Harbison was without any one to try violators of the law for several days last week on account of the absence of the mayor and mayor pro tem, and only three councilmen were at home, but they compose the business committee and everything else moved on.

Twenty-two years ago Larkin Helton and his wife, who resided two miles of Dahlonega had a quarrel and separated. The wife moved off about seventy-five miles from Dahlonega and the husband remained here, being the last time they had seen each other until Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Helton and her youngest son, who was only eight years old when they left here, came in the city. She had written to him some time ago that if he was willing she would come and live with him. It was agreeable and he went to work building a house near town, no one knowing what for until the happy couple met last Tuesday afternoon.

The act making it a heavy penalty for any one to either give or sell a minor liquor has often been violated in Lumpkin county, but no one up to this writing has ever been prosecuted for it. But doubtless the scale will change and a prosecution made at the next session of the Superior Court. The minister resides in Nimberville district who violated the law by giving liquor and making another ministers son, who is under age, drunk during the last campaign, also two other sons, but we are told that they are of age, causing the one whose boys were put in this condition angry, who says that he will prosecute preacher No. 1 as soon as court convenes.

It was reported here Wednesday that scarlet fever had broken out in the family of James Blackwell, residing some two miles and a quarter from Dahlonega near the road leading to Berden's bridge, and that a yellow flag was hung out at the forks of the road near by. City Marshal Harbison got wind of it and succeeded in finding John Dyre who owns the premises, and ascertained from him that such is not the case. It is not even occupied by the Blackwells. A case or two of sore throat has occurred in the settlement but all got well without even the assistance of a physician. The yellow flag proved to be a piece of paper put up in a tree last Sunday by some children.

New fodder brought $1.75 cents here last week.

Capes, Facinators and dress goods at J. H. McKee's.

A business man was wondering the other day which one in the house that married woman was stuck on who visited the store so often. By watching he will soon see.

A postoffice has been re-established in Crumby district called Stay, with A. J. Edge as postmaster, which will be opened as soon as his bond is received at the department.

Wonders will never cease. Just think about it. Cigarettes being sold in our court house—the temple of justice—to boys under age contrary to law, some of them being to young college students.

We were shown last Wednesday a yam potato raised by R. Ledford, of Union county, weighing six and three-fourths of a pound, but we didn't get to taste it, not even as much as a part of the peeling.

The case of Henry Johnson, of White county, against the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. for $5,000 damages, has been compromised. Mr. Johnson had his leg broken while at work for the company some time ago.

J. A. Parker and Mr. Parrhall, of Atlanta, came up this week to endeavor to settle the line between what is known as the Marona lot and M. F. Wheelchel, adjoining Charlie McAfee, but not agreeing for it to be arbitrated the matter will have to be settled by a jury in Lumpkin Superior Court.

The physicians met the other day and amputated the broken leg of Mr. Brady who was injured some weeks ago down at the Hand mine. Some time ago all the decayed flesh was removed with the hopes that his leg could be saved, but they had to take it off just below the knee. We trust that he will recover now without any more suffering.

Last Sunday a drunk man made a call at a gentlemen's house while he was away from home and his daughter shoved him out of the door and gave him a kick as he was going. If every young lady would do this each time a young man called on them with his breath smelling like like liquor there would be many more happy households throughout the land.

We have received the report of Phil G. Bird, Adjutant-General G. S. T. and keeper public buildings and grounds of the state of Georgia, which shows that he has stopped a big leak in the state treasury. In 1899 he did the business of this department with only $15,000, (and $11,000 of this is pay rolls,) where it required about $22,500 to do the same work under his predecessor in 1898, (he having the same pay roll.) This is a most excellent showing. Mr. Bird used to attend college in Dahlonega who afterwards married and made the place his home awhile, and it is always a pleasure for us to see an old Dahlonega school boy get an important position like this more especially when by economical management he is able to largely reduce the expenses of the tax payers.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 2, 1900.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

The North Georgia Conference will convene in Atlanta on the 21st inst. The attendance will be large.

Thirteen men were blown to pieces in a mine near Philippi, W. V., on the morning of the 3rd instance.

Col. Albert Howell, Jr., of Atlanta was fined last Monday $1,000 for his shortage while acting as ticket agent for the West Point railroad.

The general assembly of Georgia convened last Tuesday after a pleasure trip of a few days and elected Hon. A. O. Bacon United States Senator.

Gus Fellows, who outraged Miss Hood in Jackson county a few days ago has been tried, convicted and sentenced to be hanged on the 24th of November.

A big temperance meeting last Sunday night at the church and on Tuesday the prohibition candidate only got three votes in Dahlonega, Mayor Price casting one of them.

The legislature has taken in all the midways and other shows. So now we reason that they will have to get down to business in order to take Christmas dinner at home.

The damages filed in Fulton Superior court last Monday against the Southern Railroad growing out of the collision of the Bell train in June amounted to $84,000.

Tom Chapman, who has been tried four different times for being necessary to the burning of Quilman & Meaders' mill in Hall county some time ago will have to serve out his term in the penitentiary, says the Supreme Court.

Hon. W. H. McAfee has introduced a bill in the senate authorizing the payment of pensioners to confederate soldiers and widows of confederate soldiers when the same are now residents of the state, provided the service of such soldiers was rendered as a member of a Georgia Regiment.

Mr. Harward, of Dooly county has introduced a bill in the house to require all applications for pensions to be examined and approved by the grand jury of the county in which the applicant resides, before being allowed by the pension commissioner. This, if it becomes a law will cause no decrease.

Mrs. L. F. Burton, died of hydrophobia in Hall county a few days ago. She was bitten by a rabid dog on July 31, and went to Gainesville to be treated. Dr. Smith advised her to allow him to cut the flesh from the bitten part. This she refused. A madstone was applied and adhered for some time. Mrs. Burton returned home satisfied with the application and felt all right until a few days previous to her death. She had convulsions and froth at the mouth, the froth being of a greenish color. After suffering intensely for a short time she passed away.

It was asserted by some newspaper some time ago that at this session of the General Assembly a bill would be introduced to abolish the office of State Geologist, and the department under the supervision of such office. This is a very important office and it will certainly be a very unwise move in the one who makes it. It may be true that men have held the office who have not given entire satisfaction but this is a matter that can be remedied very easily by a removal of such officer when it is found that he is not doing his duty. This office has done much towards the development of Georgia and will do much more if not abolished. Thousands and thousands of dollars have been invested in Georgia that would not have been had it not been for this important office. We repeat, do not abolish it, but encourage it.

Its McKinley and Roosevelt. The election is over and the republicans are victorious. The latest reports show that Mr. McKinley received 297 electoral votes while Mr. Bryan only got 150.

Only a few hours after the election closed it was arranged so the result could be displayed on a black board at the court house in Dahlonega where every one who desired could see it, as fast as messengers could carry it from the telephone office, giving us the news as early as it was received in Atlanta or anywhere else by the kindness of the Bell Telephone Co. free of charge.

We have been having prosperous times and we hope that it will continue so.

The Election.

The national election in Lumpkin county last Tuesday passed off very quietly, and a very small vote was polled—only 721,—454 for Tate, for Congress, and for Bryan 410, McKinley 308 and Wolley (the prohibitionist) 3.

The vote as cast in each militia district is as follows:

Auraria—Tate for congress, 48, Bryan electors 47, McKinley electors 13.

Cumby—Tate, 6, Bryan 6, McKinley 7.

Cane Creek—Tate 22, Bryan 19, McKinley 8.

Chestate—Tate 16, Bryan 10, McKinley 8.

Davis—Tate 17, Bryan 15, McKinley 21.

Dahlonega—Tate 203, Bryan 196, McKinley 111.

Frogtown—Tate 9, Bryan 6, McKinley 11.

Hightower—Tate 13, Bryan 13, McKinley 10.

Jones' Creek—Tate 13, Bryan 2, McKinley 11.

Mill Creek—Tate 14, Bryan 9, McKinley 10.

Nimbrowill—Tate 11, Bryan 9, McKinley 47.

Porter Springs—Tate 4, Bryan 3, McKinley 19.

Martin's Ford—Tate 21, Bryan 20, McKinley 1.

Shoal Creek—Tate 19, Bryan 19, McKinley 6.

Wahoo—Tate 16, Bryan 13, McKinley 7.

Yahoola—Tate 15, Bryan 15, McKinley 18.

Aldermen Gurley and McGuire got warm enough at the meeting of the council one night last week to fight had both been in the same notion, caused by Mr. McGuire turning over the receipts of those who had not paid their city taxes to clerk of the council, Wm. J. Worley, among them being one against Mr. Crawford, Blue Ridge, father-in-law of Mr. Gurley, who has always looked after this matter, but on this occasion had neglected it, although the 1st day of October was the day fixed by law to close the book but the 4. fas. were not issued until the 18th and 19th. This negligence cost only one dollar, one-third of what we had to pay for hog tax. Such is life. In one hundred years from to-day we will forget all about it.

Mrs. Fannie Baker and Master Ruff Ed Baker left last Wednesday for Tonnell, Ga., to attend the marriage of Miss Bessie Homes, one of Tonnell's fairest. Ruff Ed is to be pillow bearer for the bride. Mrs. R. C. Meaders and her little daughter Ray also goes to Tonnell and will visit Swainsboro.

ADMINISTRATORS SALE.

Georgia, Lumpkin County. By virtue of an order of the Court of ordinary in said county, granted at the March term, 1900 of said court, will be sold at public outcry, on the first Tuesday in December, 1900, at the court house in said county, between the said hours of sale, the following real estate to wit: The Van Stringer farm containing two hundred and sixty eight acres, more or less, and consisting of one hundred and fifty acres, more or less of lot No. one hundred and eleven, and fourteen, forty acres, more or less of lot No. one hundred and twelve, three acres, more or less of lot No. one hundred and eleven, and twenty, all in the first district of originally Habersham, now Lumpkin county, Georgia and constituting one tract of land, which is bounded as follows: On the north by the land of Peter and John Cook, on the east by the Bowen place and lands of the Rucker and Harvey Stephens, on the south by the lands of Scott Stringer and on the west by the lands of E. W. Farish. Also one horse power mill, which will be delivered on the above premises. Terms cash. This 7th day of November 1900. W. M. SATTERFIELD, Administrator of Van Stringers.

Doubtless the few persons who take the Dahlonega Signal have read the article in it last week about the Nugget and its editor. It was written by little Billie, the wormy so called editor who is in charge of that paper. We will not consume much time or space in replying to the article, but as strangers may not know what kind of an aspect he is we will proceed to tell them very briefly. Capt. J. W. Woodward, whose name appears as editor of that paper, wouldn't be guilty of such a trick. He is the father of the one who does pretend to run it, and is a good clever man, having no disposition like that of his boy. Capt. Woodward has always been our friend—is a man and we like him. But Billie is the sorriest piece of humanity ever in existence. An exclamation point with a derby on it would make a correct picture of him. He is so sorry that neither a musquitto, bed bug or body louse will bite him, if they did it would be instant death to them. And also thin that you can hold him up between you and the sun and see every worm in him, and so light that he would blow away like a toy balloon if it was not for his big shoes and large derby. Really the make up of the interior of his stomach and head are so much alike that the miller which lays the eggs that produce these big worms occasionally makes a mistake and deposits them in the latter instead of the former place, which grow off so rapidly that they add the small quantity of brains therein, causing a bad effect when they grow old. This occurred not many months ago, who was speedily cured by taking a bottle of vermifuge and receiving a shaking up by Good Beck. If he does not recover soon he will have to undergo this treatment again. Excuse us, gentle reader. Now we will pass this matter and try to give you something that will interest you more.

ADMINISTRATORS SALE. Agreeably to an order from the Court of Ordinary of Lumpkin county will be sold at public outcry, to the highest bidder, before the court house door of said county on the 1st Tuesday in December next, within the legal hours of sale, the following property to-wit: All that parcel of land in the town of Dahlonega, Ga., described as follows: Beginning at the East corner of Chestate Street and Arcadia Avenue on land lot No. 986 in the 12th District and 1st Section, and running South-West along Arcadia Avenue 410 feet to the fence of the college drill grounds, thence North-West 132 feet along the present line of fence opposite said college drill grounds, thence North-East 410 feet along the line of Capt. Ingalls' lot to Chestate Street, thence down along Chestate Street to the beginning corner. On said parcel of land is located a brick dwelling house and other improvements. Also another parcel of land in said town of Dahlonega adjoining the said parcel above described and described as follows: Beginning at the beginning point of first named parcel thence running with said Chestate Street about 40 30 East 48 feet, thence South-Westerly at right angles with Chestate Street until the line reaches the North and South line on the East side of land lot number 949 in said district and section, thence north along said land line and the fence at the college drill grounds until the line strikes the South corner of said first named parcel of land, thence on a straight line to the beginning point. Both said parcels of land lying contiguous on the one to the other form one entire tract of land containing by estimation five and one-half acres of land, more or less, the same being now all under fence, and the same will be sold in one body. Also the lots at West Point in said town of Dahlonega described as follows: The house and lot where John Roberts now resides, being 210 feet by 100 feet. Also the house and lot whereon John Adams now resides, described as follows: Beginning at the North-West corner of said lot and running South-West 115 feet, thence South-East 48 feet, thence North 61 feet, thence East 64 feet, thence North 57 feet, thence 115 feet to the beginning corner. Also the house and lot whereon John Brookshire and Lafayette Carder reside, said lot being 90 by 170 feet. The last mentioned three lots lying contiguous, the one to the other, but will be sold in separate lots. Also two lots of land numbers one hundred and twelve and one hundred and thirteen lying and being situated in the North-Half of the 13th District and 1st Section of Lumpkin county, Georgia, each lot containing 40 acres more or less. Sold as the property of Charles D. Griggs, late of Volusia county, Florida, deceased. Terms cash. This 7th day of November, 1900.

APPLICATION FOR ROAD. Georgia, Lumpkin County. Whereas certain petitioners have made their application to this Court for an order granting the establishment of a new road commencing at the Henry Duckett old place running in the direction of the H. C. Duckett old place then down the road to D. S. Grindle road where it leaves the Cleveland and Dahlonega road, thence in the direction of the Chestate river, thence South-East to A. J. Burgess, thence from there to the Dahlonega and Cleveland road at Littlefields' store, from there to the garden place on the Gainesville road and whereas commissioners appointed for that purpose have received and marked out said road and reported to me that said road will be of public utility and convenience, now this is to cite all whom it may concern that, on and after the first Monday in December, 1900, said new road will be granted if no good cause to the contrary is shown. Given under my hand and seal, this 8th day of November, 1900. W. H. C. TATE, Ord'y.

Georgia, Lumpkin County. To all whom it may concern. J. J. Shed has applied to the undersigned for permanent letters of administration on the estate of John Turner, deceased, and I will pass upon the same on the first Monday in December next. This Nov. 5, 1900. W. H. C. TATE, Ord'y.

GEORGIA, LUMPKIN COUNTY. Jas. W. Perry has applied to the undersigned for permanent letters of administration on the estate of Elizabeth Pickens, deceased, and I will pass upon the same on the first Monday in December next. This Nov. 5, 1900. W. H. C. TATE, Ord'y.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 9, 1900.

Another election is over and we will get a rest.

Heavy frosts now, causing "possums to ripen rapidly."

Mrs. Tilda Findley is having her dwelling greatly improved.

A little child of J. H. Robinson died last Friday in Dahlonega.

The carpenters saws and hammers are still heard in Dahlonega.

Lumpkin county's officers have all filled their bonds according to law and are now happy.

FOR SALE.—Household and kitchen furniture.

J. R. PALMER.

Mr. Mayne, of London who has been expected here for some time, arrived last Wednesday afternoon.

Chickens are scarce in Dahlonega. Some were here last Saturday and brought Atlanta prices.

Our farmers have long since learned that Dahlonega is a much better place to sell their produce than Gainesville.

The Griggs city property, which is very valuable will be sold at administrators sale on the first Tuesday in December.

The manager of Crown Mountain Mining Co., will make the many laborers happy to-morrow by paying them off.

Price Robertson, son of Mrs. Sallie Robertson of this county, died in Hall the other day and was buried at Yellow Creek.

Our friend, Mr. Merck, who has been residing in Dahlonega for some time, moved his family back to Gainesville this week.

Some of the farmers of this county who killed weeds by chopping them down all through the rainy season, inform us that they have made more corn than ever before.

We haven't seen any new syrup here this year. We suppose they are holding it back for a higher price like we farmers used to hold back cotton when the writer belonged to the Farmers Alliance.

It is reported that Wm. Worley (T. H. Worley's son) and Miss Gertrude Rider were married the other day. The parents of both objected and the license was procured in another county if it is true.

Mrs. W. J. Worley narrowly escaped being seriously injured last Tuesday by a buggy passing over her. She was standing at the buggy and when the horse started it knocked her down but fortunately the wheels missed her body.

The election was not near so lively last Tuesday as it was at the previous one. There was not enough stimulants to cause many to come to town and only three intoxicated men were seen on the streets during the entire day, who drank their own liquor mostly, causing it to be a very quiet occasion.

At G. H. McGuire's, next door to Masonic Hall you will find most anything kept by a jeweler, repairing a specialty, and anything desired in the way of jewelry will be found there. And if you want your eyes examined and fitted by spectacles this is the place to call. All work in the way of repairing will be finished within 3 days after the 15th inst. If you wish bargains in watches and clocks this is the place to call.

Walter Waters, residing up in Nimbleshill district, came near being killed the other day while out hunting for squirrels by the falling of a sapling which considerably injured him and almost killed two dogs which he held in his arms while a hollow tree was falling containing some squirrels.

This falling tree struck the sapling which hit Mr. Waters' arms who was endeavoring to keep the dogs out of danger while the parties were cutting the tree.

Hot Stuff Stoves for sale at Frank L. Reeses.

Mrs. T. S. Waters, of Gainesville is up on a visit to her father, Capt. J. W. Woodward.

It is reported here that the school in Atlanta which Prof. O. Palmour was elected to take charge of, has suspended for the time being on account of scarlet fever breaking out in the school.

John W. Rider, of Two Run, Ga., has sold his stock of merchandise to Ben Smith, of Porter Springs, who will move there right away. Mr. Rider will build if he does not decide to move to Blue Ridge.

Uncle Reubin Wilson represented Anuraria last Tuesday and we don't believe we ever saw a happier man and one that loved everybody.

He lit on a horse in the afternoon and said that he was going to Anuraria after the election returns but never returned.

Carnelious Goudlock, who got into some mischief in Dahlonega some nights ago left out, but decided that he had rather come back home and pay a fine than to stay away, returned and was fined two and cost by Mayor Price Tuesday last.

Only a few days ago a certain young man, who was engaged to a young lady in Shoal Creek district, came down to a corn shucking and got so drunk that he had to be carried to the creek. This probably broke the engagement and he will have to hunt another person for a life mate.

The school in the neighborhood where the scarlet fever is, in the upper portion of this county, has suspended. This is right. Gainesville and Hall county did this—had no gatherings of any kind in the county and soon stamped it out. Continue to do this and it will be a thing of the past.

We are informed that no blame should be attached to any of the teachers of the graded school about the recent entertainment. Many of the pupils were invited to participate but their parents didn't wish to go to the expense of buying and making costumes, when there were pupils having them already made who had used them on another occasion, that would answer all purposes.

Several new residences are going up in Hightower district which shows that her enterprising citizens intend to keep up their end of the row. Capt. F. M. Williams has under way a two story residence and Dot Gaddis will soon begin to build another. W. V. Healand has his single story residence nearly completed. Let the good work go on. Such enterprises show that there is life and activity in the land and we like to see it.

H. F. Russels, of Howlands, who has some business interests at Altoona, Ga., came to Dahlonega Friday to see Col. W. P. Price about the building of a railroad from Dahlonega to Gainesville. Col. Price was not here at the time but Mr. Russels remained until he arrived. He said that he was going to London right away and believed that he could get a company that would build this road and connect it with some other, if he could secure Col. Price's interests in the same, that is from here to Gainesville. He had this assurance and there will be no trouble on this line.

On last Saturday night the store of John Bennett, at Wier, this county, was broken into and fifty dollars in money and two pair of shoes and maybe other things taken therefrom. The postoffice was kept in the same building but we have not yet heard of anything in this department being molested. The building was entered by the parties boring enough holes above and below in the door for the plank to drop in and allow them to pass.

The building was entered by the parties boring enough holes above and below in the door for the plank to drop in and allow them to pass.

This falling tree struck the sapling which hit Mr. Waters' arms who was endeavoring to keep the dogs out of danger while the parties were cutting the tree.

Mr. Betz came down from the north last week to see Col. Baker, who was in Macon at the time, to make arrangements by telephone to meet in Gainesville.

The Crumby postoffice will quite likely be abolished as we understand that Postmaster Caldwell is going to resign and there is no one else up there who wishes to take it.

The persons owing this paper say that they are getting tired of loaning it to you every week. Don't be so stingy and impose on your good neighbors and relatives. Get one of your own.

We are informed that some of the family of Ross Bensly, residing in Crumby's district between Dahlonega and Porter Springs, have the scarlet fever. All in that neighborhood should be very cautious so as to keep it from spreading.

We are indebted to little Clude Walker, a regular reader of the NUGGET for a mess of green beans which we enjoyed very much for dinner last Saturday. Clude is a bright little boy, very industrious and no doubt will make a useful man when he becomes of age.

While the legislature adjourned last week to take in the state fair at Valdosta and the street fair at Brunswick, Hon. G. D. Bruce, Lumpkin county's wide awake representative, came up and spent the time at home. He returned time enough Tuesday to cast his vote for U. S. Senator.

Our office was honored by a visit from J. T. Birch, of St. Louis, Mo., last Monday afternoon, accompanied by one of his sons. Mr. Birch is not interested in any of the mining operations here but has two sons who are which in one sense of the word causes him to be somewhat interested. He left a dollar with us in order to hear from this section once a week. It is Mr. Birch's first visit to Dahlonega but we trust that it will not be his last one.

D. C. Stow now has a supply of coffins and caskets who is ready to offer these articles at reasonable prices and asks the public for a liberal share of patronage. Mr. Stow after attending the Southern College of Embalmers at Augusta, Ga. last summer received a diploma, recently attended a board of the embalmers of the state who gave him full power to follow the business and he is now located in Dahlonega which will be a great convenience for the people of this section who have heretofore been compelled to send to Gainesville at a heavy expense.

A subscriber, whose time has expired to the NUGGET makes the following request which we cannot comply with because others might follow his example and we would dry up on the stalk and be carried out of the office by the ants: "Editor of the NUGGET: I will drop you a few lines to let you no that you can continue The super scription of the NUGGET if you desire for twelve months hence I will pay you Before the super scription is out and if not you can stop it i can pay you next fall without fail this is better maid than lost i will close for this time i remain yours truly —"

Dahlonega has just begun to realize the importance of her splendid telephone system. No doubt it is one cause of the increased attendance of the N. G. A. College this fall as parents both far and near can sit down and talk with their sons and daughters at any moment. And when a person is absent from Dahlonega any one of the family can have a chat with them at pleasure. The other day when Col. Baker was in Macon, nearly two hundred miles away, his wife, wishing to test the system, conversed with her husband same as if he was in the parlor, except they couldn't see each other. We can remember when we could hear from Atlanta only every other day by mail. This improvement is a big one, and the credit is due Prof. J. S. Stewart, who was the main promoter.

A little girl of Lewis Price was buried last Friday.

R. W. Walker visited Ducktown Tenn., this week on business.

The raising of the quarantine against the eastern portion of the county is causing a good trade to come to town from that section again, as the citizens over there are all industrious.

Those going to Atlanta from this county with cattle find the market dull. Too much fine western beef shipped to that city by rail for the mountain cattle men to make anything at the business.

During Col. Darnell's political speech here last Saturday in the interest of the republican party some youngsters got so noisy hollering for Bryan that the city marshal had to be called in.

Howell & Miller, of Anuraria, Ga., are repairing and repainting their hotel at that place and are getting it in tip top shape for the many visitors who are expected there from time to time looking after the mining interests in that locality.

M. G. Head has been resting with the yellow jaundice for some days eating much gun powder and drinking a little corn liquor. We had them last winter and know exactly how he feels and can sympathize with him, but still our sympathy won't either cure or relieve him.

The northern gentlemen who are at work for Crown Mountain Co., putting up machinery at the head of the canal up in Chestatee district, will likely have some strange happenings to tell their families when they return home. One being the intoxicated woman riding an animal astride the other day. And if they had a kodak her picture may appear in some big daily.

Some very obscene language has recently been written on fences and stables in Dahlonega by unknown persons about certain ladies. Don't do this any more. Ladies are at your mercy and can't help themselves. Remember how bad you would feel to have such language written about your mother or sister. No, do not be guilty of it any more, matters not how bad you dislike them, get revenge in some other way, or let the matter rest entirely.

Last Saturday afternoon when Mr. Duckett drove up to the post-office with the mail back in which Mayor Price was riding, the moment the driver got out to deliver the mail something scared the team and they turned and was making across the square at break-neck speed causing every one to have fears for Col. Price who was sitting on the second seat, but fortunately he got hold of the lines and checked them until they could be caught by several persons without any damage to vehicle or person.

A biscuit twenty-three years old. Did you ever hear of one being this old before? It may seem strange to you but it true. Thirty-three years ago Mrs. Belle Charters, then Miss Belle Price, visited a relative down at Milner, Ga., while a little girl. During her visit Miss Belle prepared some dough and baked biscuit and a young lady, Miss Martin, put one away for a keepsake. Right recently Miss Martin married who sent the biscuit to Mrs. Charters in a nice little box. The biscuit has on it the day and date it was made.

All the students—about 75 and the professors who attended the oratorical contest in Atlanta last week have returned, each looking very pleasant, though not as much so as if the Dahlonega college had have won the first prize, nevertheless they should not feel discouraged in the least when the speaker, W. M. Smith, came out ahead of the State University. The Mercer speaker, being W. F. George, won the first prize and Mr. Smith was given the third. His speech is pronounced by all who heard it an able one who did credit to himself and the institution which he represented.

Robt. A. Ray, after being in Dahlonega quite awhile has sold out and gone to Galveston, Tex., to follow his occupation as a mechanic.

Wm. Ricketts says he contemplates going to Colorado. Will has been with us in Dahlonega 2 good while and we dislike to see him leave.

Joe Ricketts' dog killed a coon the other night five miles above town, wearing a leather collar considerably worn. It is supposed to be an escaped pet.

J. N. DuPree, of Dahlonega, has gone to Galveston, Tex. There is a demand for all kinds of workmen in that city especially good miners like Mr. DuPree.

Mrs. W. H. McAfee has gone to Atlanta to spend some time while her husband occupies his seat in the senate looking after the interests of his people and country.

We were shown last Monday a twin cabbage purchased at one of the stores, but did not learn where it was raised. It was certainly a fine one and the first one of the kind we ever saw.

Sheriff Dayis has been unwell every since the election and we regret to state that he has taken a back set and is closely confined in his room again, but we hope that he will soon be well and out again.

There is a strange red cow at W. H. Reids, who resides a few miles above Dahlonega, and has been for some time, which Mr. Reid would be glad for the owner to come and get.

Call Strickland and Guy Reese, who left for Florida several weeks ago, are now at Arcadia, that state. The NUGGET follows them and keeps them posted about the people and their sweethearts at Dahlonega.

J. T. Smith, who recently bought the mercantile business of J. M. Brooksher, has taken charge and now asks for a liberal share of the patronage of the citizens of Dahlonega and surrounding country. His ad. will appear next week.

B. F. Anderson, Jr., has purchased a portion of M. G. Head's lot and will erect a store house on Main street next to G. McGuire's. W. H. C. Tate has purchased the portion from G. McGuire on the other street down to the cross street fronting W. C. Thomas'.

Last Friday Carl Shultz, a student of the N. G. A. College, made the trip on a bicycle to Atlanta in ten hours, during which time he stopped long enough for dinner. The distance is about 75 miles and the run was a good one considering the rough roads between here and that city.

The credential committee of the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College met last Saturday and recommended Prof. C. W. Steed, of Bristol, Tenn., for the chair of History in the institution made vacant by the resignation of Prof. O. Palmour. As soon as this recommendation was made the board convened and elected Prof. Steed to fill the position without any opposition. The professor is a graduate of Mercer University which is sufficient proof that he is well fitted to fill the important position to which he has been elected, who will be here for the purpose of taking charge of the same in a few weeks.

After experimenting with the western and Tennessee miners by the Consolidated Co., they have gotten rid of them and now have a good lot of Georgia boys and are moving things right along, who cut more rock and cheaper than any hands yet tried. Eight hour shifts in shafts and ten in tunnels. Mill constantly running and plates showing up well.

We, together with Mr. Matthews, the druggist, had the pleasure last week of seeing over two hundred pennyweights of nuggets owned by a miner who had taken them from the bed of a stream running through Lumpkin county, proving that not only the hills and mountains of this section contain the yellow metal in large quantities but even the beds of the rivers and creeks. These nuggets were of different sizes and shapes, weighing all the way from two or three grains up to ounces, being the nearest lot of nuggets we have seen for years. We are not at liberty to give the name of the owner as he does not wish to gain any notoriety in the way of mining.

You will find an interesting letter on the first page of this issue written from Nacoochee concerning the White County Gold Mining Company, Limited. This is a strong solid company composed of business men residing in both the north and south with push and energy, and we bespeak for them good results. Some of them being well known to the writer. The officers are Frank D. Andrus, chairman, of Corlies Andrus & Leete, attorneys, Detroit; C. J. O'Flynn, secretary, attorney at law, Detroit; Hermann Dey, treasurer, of the American Exchange Bank, Detroit. Directors: Frank D. Andrus, C. J. O'Flynn, Hermann Dey, E. G. Reor, all of Michigan, Capt. T. W. Hix, manager, Fall Mountain Asbestos Company, Nacoochee, Ga., T. L. Odies, attorney at law, Cleveland, Ga. Mr. Reor, is a vessel owner who also owns stock in the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. We most certainly wish them success in their undertaking.

We are informed that it is the intention of Mr. Ashley, of Toledo, O., to build two dredge boats, one to be put into the Chestatee river and the other in the Yahola creek. No doubt they will pay as it has been clearly demonstrated by the tests made from concentrates at the Consolidated Co's chlorination plant that thousands of pennyweights of gold have been lost and washed away into these streams which can be successfully gathered up again by proper methods—being the dredge boat, all such boats used in the streams of this county having given perfect satisfaction and pay well. Some few years ago a small party of miners secured a lease and lifted the sand and gravel from the bed of the Yahola creek on a small scale and made from three to four dollars per day each but were interrupted so much by the rains that they had to give it up, but by the boat method work can move right along.

The work of the Crown Mountain Company is moving along as well as could be expected—so far have been able to put in nearly every day, the weather having been fine for all such work. The canal is nearing completion. This has certainly been a gigantic piece of work, as much of the canal had to be cut through rock, but in a few weeks more it will be finished. All the ground has been graded for the flume and forebay. The staves are all sawed for the big tube and the hoops are on the way. All the wire for the power line is here and being put in position, and the foundation walls for mill is going up as fast as men can do the work. Every thing being carried on by this company is done in a business like manner, causing everybody here to have the utmost confidence for the successful operation of this big gold mine when they get the mill in running order. Careful and accurate tests have been made which show that this property contains large quantities of rich ore which will be mined and milled by a saving process.

Cost of Revenge.
Last week at the Pickwick a party of gentlemen were conversing. Said one of them:

"Twenty years ago I was hunting on the field of a neighboring farmer and had bagged a goodly number of fat quail when the land owner appeared, took the fruits of my hunt and severely chastised me. I went home much angered, but kept my own counsel. The days passed and I seemed overcome with a burning desire for vengeance. I chanced to read something about Johnson grass in the New York Sun one day, and I struck upon a plan to get even with my enemy. His farm was a fine one, embracing about 160 acres. I procured a bushel of the grass seed and under cover of night and scattered them over that farm. A few months later my father moved to a distant state. The years passed by and I grew to manhood. The memory of my chastising and my revenge had been long forgotten. One day, some years ago, I met a lovely young lady at the home of a friend. I was smitten, laid siege to her heart and hand and married her. Her parents were dead and her worldly possessions consisted of a 300-acre tract of what she termed wild land in my former state of residence. I went to see it, and imagine my surprise to recognize in it the old field where I had hunted, received the licking and sowed the seed for revenge. The whole truth at once dawned upon me. I had married the daughter of the old farmer and my wife was the undisputed owner of one of the finest fields of Johnson Grass on the face of the earth. That land in its present condition is worth about 50 cents an acre, but if I could just get rid of that accursed Johnson grass it is worth $30 an acre. I have spent $1,000 on it already and it begins to look as if as much more would be required to reclaim it.—Dallas (Tex.) News.

How He Cleared His Client.
There was an attorney once who had a client who was an undersized fellow with a temper like a lightning flash and who had killed a man much larger than himself, says the Denyer Times.

The case came to trial, and the lawyer who was a great big fellow, after the prosecuting attorney had made out a plain case and had submitted a powerful argument to the jury for conviction arose and requested the foreman of the jury to step down beside him. The foreman complied and the lawyer said: "Your honor and gentlemen of the jury the man killed by my client—and we admit the killing—was my size. You see my client is about the size of the foreman here. The dead man hauled off and slapped my client like this—"

And sulking the action to the word the attorney slapped the foreman in the face, shouting as he did so:

"What would you do if a man did that to you?"

"I'd kill him," shouted the foreman.

"Exactly," said the lawyer, "that's just what my client did—that's my argument, you honor and gentlemen."

He sat down and had a verdict of acquittal in ten minutes after the jury had retired.

The Supreme Court judges the other day had an appeal case of two negroes before them. They gave one a new trial and affirmed the verdict in the case of the other, all on the same evidence. They found no fault with the Judge's rulings or charge. They based their decision on the evidence. How they could hold one on the evidence and give the other a new trial on the same evidence, is one of those mysteries that are inscrutable and past finding out. There is no certainty what the Supreme Court will do. They are fallible men, just like other folks. —Marietta Journal.

An advertising periodical estimates that there are in the United States about 170,000 regular advertisers who spend at least $300,000,000 annually for space in the newspapers. Whether these figures be accurate or exaggerated, it is obvious that tens of thousands of successful men consider newspaper "ads" as essential to their business, and that their faith in the virtue of advertising is the result of experience.—Ex.

The Young Southerners.

Sound advice to young Southerners was given by Prof. Francis H. Smith of the University of Virginia to the last graduating class of the Virginia Military Institute. He traced to the early South the things which are best in the South of to-day, dwelt upon the outlook of youth generally, and coming down to his own people, said:

"I would impress upon the young men of the South that we live in the choicest of all centuries and in the choicest of all lands of this century. America is the best country in the world, and the South is the best part of America for a young man. Our favored land has no titled aristocracy to pre-empt the best places no grooves of custom to direct and confine its energies. In our own happy section the same industry and talent are more quickly and more generally rewarded than in the more crowded and 'hustling' communities of the North and West. I have often thought that half the push and effort necessarily put forth by the young Southerner who settles in the West, with slow returns often for his toil, would have made him a rich man in his native state. Young man, go not North (that may be excusable in a young married couple on their bridal tour) go not West—that advice was meant for New England boys. Stay where you are, and begin life with the capital of good will left you by your parents and the heritage of their honored names."

The foreman complied and the lawyer said: "Your honor and gentlemen of the jury the man killed by my client—and we admit the killing—was my size. You see my client is about the size of the foreman here. The dead man hauled off and slapped my client like this—"

And sulking the action to the word the attorney slapped the foreman in the face, shouting as he did so:

"What would you do if a man did that to you?"

"I'd kill him," shouted the foreman.

"Exactly," said the lawyer, "that's just what my client did—that's my argument, you honor and gentlemen."

He sat down and had a verdict of acquittal in ten minutes after the jury had retired.

The Supreme Court judges the other day had an appeal case of two negroes before them. They gave one a new trial and affirmed the verdict in the case of the other, all on the same evidence. They found no fault with the Judge's rulings or charge. They based their decision on the evidence. How they could hold one on the evidence and give the other a new trial on the same evidence, is one of those mysteries that are inscrutable and past finding out. There is no certainty what the Supreme Court will do. They are fallible men, just like other folks. —Marietta Journal.

Newspaper Don'ts.

Don't discontinue a paper until you have squarred up with it.

Don't abuse a paper unless you pay for it. Borrowers are the greatest faultfinders a newspaper has to contend with.

Don't abuse a paper if it uses space in pointing something you do not consider worth reading. Those who read your part of the paper may think it pure rot. A paper is built to please many, not one.

Don't take paper out of the postoffice for five years and then refuse to pay for it because you never subscribed for it now. This is plain theory, pure and simple. You could have refused it four years and eleven months before.

Don't get mad if your visitor's name does not appear in the personal columns. Perhaps you did not tell the editor; he's no mind reader.

Don't stop a paper if your three-column contribution is condensed into eight lines. The editor may have done you a favor.

Don't cuss the editor because his opinions do not conform to yours. If they did he might be at variance with eight or ten million other people.

Don't delay paying your subscription because it is a small matter. If all did the same way it would kill the paper in two months.

Don't expect more of the paper than you do for it. If you expect the paper to speak well of you, you must speak well of it.

A Model Girl.

A Kansas girl graduate who had been given the theme, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," promulgated the following:

"I do not care a cent whether Italy lies beyond the Alps or in Missouri. I do not expect to set thereover on fire with my future career. I am glad that I have a good, very good, education, but I am not going to misuse it by writing poetry or essays about the future woman. It will enable me to correct the grammar of any lover I have, should he speak of 'dorges' in my presence, or say he 'went somewhere,' or 'saw' a man. It will also come handy when I want to figure out how many pounds of soap a woman can get for three dozen eggs at the grocery. So I do not begrudge the time I spent in acquiring it. But my ambitions do not fly so high. I just want to marry a man who can 'lick' anybody of his weight in the township, who can run an eighty-acre farm, and who has no female relatives to come around and try to boss the ranch. I will agree to cook dinner for him that won't send him to an early grave, and lavish upon him a whole lot of wholesome affection, and to see that his razor has not been used to cut broom wire when he wants to shave. In view of all this I do not care if I do get a little rusty on the 'rule of three' and kindred things as the years go by."—Southern Industrial News.

The Newspaper Man.

The real newspaper man has a love for his work and a regard, I might say affection, for his paper, which those who have never engaged in the work may perhaps not understand.

Next to the member of his family, the newspaper man cares for his paper.

Its contents are the result of hard conscientious work to please and to entertain.

The newspaper man must try to see all sides of a question, so as to treat none unfair or unjustly in the discussion of presentation of it.

In his treatment of new matter, he can give no thought to personal feeling. If he does, he fails to measure up to the standard of the real newspaper worker.

But no matter what he must encounter, the newspaper man loves his work. A well known Southern editor once declared: "You may cure a man of the whiskey habit, but of the newspaper habit—never."—Charlotte News.

Two Madisonville girls became infatuated with the idea of having their photos made with their heads stuck through a torn newspaper and went to a photograph gallery for that purpose. However, when their pictures were taken they were horrified to see what they had not noticed before. The paper they had put their heads through was a Knoxville paper and just beneath their smiling faces was a tailor's advertisement headed, "Our pants are lined in the seat." It is needless to say that they were considerably got away with, but they persuaded the photographer not to put the picture on exhibition and so no one but ourselves has ever seen the picture.—Madisonville Democrat.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 18, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

McKinley and Bryan tied in Murray county, each receiving 816. In Porto Rico fifty-eight thousand votes were cast, most of them republican.

Some of the leading democrats of the United States favor leaving out the silver plank next time.

Bryan carried Kentucky by about 2000 but the republicans cry out fraud and say they will contest.

McKinley carried Nebraska, Bryan's state by about 6,000 plurality and the republican state ticket is elected by near 20,000.

A bill is now before the legislature not to pension any one owning $1,000 worth of property and having an income of $300 per year.

Atlanta is certainly a great city. She has already announced where the delegates to the North Georgia Conference will stop, numbering several hundred.

There are two bills now before the legislature asking for biennial sessions of that body hereafter. Such a law would be a big saving to the state and be often enough for them to meet and discuss the dog tax and game law.

So many members of the Georgia legislature have been frolicking around during the session as to cause a delay in the progress of work on account of them being absent. Hereafter the names of absent members will be recorded and read out.

The write ups of the police courts of Atlanta by G. N. Hartel in the Atlanta Constitution every day adds much interests to the columns of that great daily. Really these penshots by that able writer are alone worth the subscription price of the Constitution.

The Manufacturer's Record in commenting on the recent election says: "It is especially fortunate for the south that its business interests can continue their wonderful progress without the sudden interruption which would necessarily have followed the election had Mr. Bryan been elected."

The following bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Underwood of White: To authorize constables of this state to levy upon personal property all fi. fas. issued from the superior, city or county courts, where the principal sum due thereon does not exceed $100, where the same can be collected out of personal property.

A rumor has reached the city to the effect that a man of the name of Dills, who died in Union county recently, confessed on his death bed to having killed Duke Palmour of Cleveland. The killing occurred more than 25 years ago, and a few years ago Mark Vandiver was tried for the murder. The trial was in Towns county and created much excitement at the time, as Palmour was a prominent attorney and very popular. Vandiver was acquitted though the circumstantial evidence against him was very strong and many thought that he was the guilty man.—Eagle.

Gov. Candler deemed it best to send two companies of soldiers to Jefferson the other day during the trial of Gus Fellers, col., charged with outraging Miss Dora Hood, an orphan girl, some days previous. He was found guilty and sentenced to be hung on the 24th inst. but quite likely the negro will get a new trial or sentence suspended until a further investigation can be made as there were several witnesses, some of them white, who testified of Gus being off too far at that time to have committed the crime, besides the lady made a mistake either first or last in her identification. Gus says now that it was his brother but wouldn't tell in the beginning because he believed he would not be found guilty—and does not wish to suffer the penalty for what his brother did.

Additional Locals.

Notice of city election will be found elsewhere. Obituaries and resolutions of respect published at two cents per line.

There are numbers of old people in Lumpkin county who never saw a railroad.

A new lot of stationery just received. Call and examine it and have some job work done.

We had at our house the other day a mess of new Irish potatoes—this year's second crop.

Bear in mind that all the advertisements in the NUGGET are alive. We carry over no ads. in order to fill up space.

Mr. Breyman, after going home for the election is back again giving his mining interests—the Consolidated—his undivided attention.

Dr. Wheelchel's little boy, Garner, has been dangerously sick this week with membranous croup and was feared for awhile Wednesday that he would die.

A gentleman, who returned from Atlanta last Saturday, stated that he was told by a member of the legislature that there must be at least a thousand cases of scarlet fever in Atlanta.

We notice from the Clarksville Record that Daniel Howell, of Auraria, is up at Demorest, who is enjoying himself fishing, having caught a carp the other day weighing 9 pounds.

In White county the prohibition candidate for president got 18 votes. There they have no temperance societies or unions which shows that the one in Dahlonega is accomplishing nothing.

At the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court Capt. F. W. Hall was selected by the grand jury to serve as one of the members of the finance committee, but the Captain never accepted, which causes a vacancy.

From the way our northern friends are renewing their subscriptions to the Nugget and others subscribing leads us to believe that they have great confidence in this country and prosperous times will continue.

Mrs. D. M. Grizzle had the misfortune to lose about twenty-five dollars the other day. The pocketbook containing it was knocked from the mantle in some way and was not noticed until the money was nearly burnt up.

J. M. Robinson, of Porter Springs, informed us last Friday that he had on the day previous for dinner a mess of bunch beans, tomatoes and cucumbers. The two former vegetables were a second crop this year just gathered from the vines. This gives strangers an idea of what a great country this is.

A. W. Aderholt, the wide awake advertising agent of Chamberlain Medicine Co., that well known firm located at Des Moines, Iowa, dropped into our office last Saturday for the purpose of making another contract for 12 more months, making the fifth year we have been advertising for them, which is an evident fact that both the Nugget and this reliable firm are being benefited.

The other day certain parties called at the residence of one of their friends in Dahlonega to spend the day with the family. When the time arrived for the colored servant to commence preparing dinner she promptly began her duties, with instructions from the lady of the house to clean a soup bone nicely and put it into a certain amount of water and let it cook until fifteen minutes before noon when she would appear again and fix and prepare it for the table. Dinner time arrived and the lady returned but imagine her surprise when she looked into the vessel and found that the negro woman by a misunderstanding had put in a soup bowl and kept it boiling all this time, thinking that she was carrying out instructions, while the soup bone lay away raw and unmoisted. It is useless to say that they had no soup that day for dinner.

Our old friend John Stewart now of Cleveland, O., returned to Dahlonega a few days ago. Mr. Stewart is interested in the Keystone property near Dahlonega. It consists of eleven lots and is valuable for gold mining purposes.

The Atlanta papers gave the college boys the devil in their columns for being out of order recently but had little to say about Georgia's law makers getting on a spree and cutting a big shine while taking in the state fair the other day.

The school teachers of this county, as well as every where else in the state will be glad to know that the present legislature is endeavoring to fix it so they can get their pay more promptly. There is another bill before the house, preventing any one from getting any of the benefits of the school fund who do not pay their poll taxes, which will greatly reduce the number of pupils, if it becomes a law. We are of the opinion that it should pass for no one should receive any of the benefits of the school fund who make no effort to pay their poll tax.

BERMINGHAM, ALA., Nov. 12. ED. NUGGET:—

I wish to thank, through your interesting paper, Capt. H. D. Ingersoll, for the great favor of his name, which I have used excellently on two occasions and which has proven to be my mascot. On Sept. 21st I bid on the construction of the city market here. I was asked to give the committee some reference as to my ability. I referred them to the Captain. Last week I bid on the whole new water works including the pumping station, to cost over two hundred thousand dollars. I gave the same reference, and again was successful. Whether it is his recommendation or reputation I know not, but nevertheless, I got the work. Respectfully, JOHN L. BURNS.

When you feel that life is hardly worth the candle take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, tone up your liver and regulate your bowels making you feel like a new man. For sale by The Matthews Drug Co.

The Griffin News and Sun don't seem to speak very favorable of the legislature, because it says that even the pages were drunk when they passed through that city the other night. This will be very discouraging news to temperance workers who expect anything favorable from them during the present session.

CITY ELECTION.

An election will be held on Saturday December 15th, 1900, to fill vacancies in the following Wards: 1st Ward 1 Alderman; 2nd Ward 2 Aldermen; 3rd Ward 1 Alderman. Election will be held as in all respects for members of the General Assembly. By order of City Council.

WM. J. WOOLEY, City Clerk.

Bryans plurality in Georgia is 47,847.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by The Matthews Drug Co.

Half of the fourteen districts in Fannin county were thrown out in the recent election by the Board, says the Blue Ridge Post, giving Bryan a small majority. If Fannin had controlled the national election McKinley would have been a goner, as it is he rests in his seat with all ease.

Governor Candler, during the past year has pardoned 83 persons charged with crime, commuted the sentence of 30, granted eight respites and removed disabilities from nineteen. He also paid out in rewards about $4,000 for the arrest and conviction of criminals and has offered fully $10,000 in rewards.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 16, 1900.

We notice that Representative Beace and Senator McAfee have been put on several very important committees.

Capt. F. W. Hall and his wife have gone to Ingleside, Ga., where they will remain for awhile and then go to their winter home in Florida.

Last Friday's Justices Court seemed to be a very interesting one as it was attended by more people than usual, being nothing on hand but civil business either.

This year in Lumpkin county has certainly been a good one for potatoes, turkeys and most every other kind of produce except corn, notwithstanding most every farmer will have enough to do him.

Grace, Ga., in this county, seems to be a splendid place to raise sweet potatoes. T. S. Littlefield sent one in the other day weighing eight pounds and three quarters, being the biggest we have seen this year so far. Next.

We would like to know why it is that Miss Carrie Ledford don't receive her paper at Parks, Ga. It is sent with the others every week and we hear of no complaint from either of the other subscribers getting their paper at that office.

We were presented with a gift of four large sweet potatoes last Friday by that clever farmer Harvey Parks who resides out in the eastern part of the county. The largest weighed six pounds and the four made more than filled a half bushel measure.

G. G. Evans, who got his hand badly injured by a shingle machine about a month ago, was out for the first time since it occurred last Friday. One of his fingers was broken while the others were badly sawed, which will render his hand unable for use for some time to come.

Old Mrs. Pinion, who was sent to the Paupers Home from Mill Creek district some time since died a few days ago. She was tried for lunacy, but the jury being satisfied that it was only her poverty stricken condition that was causing her to have some strange notions recommended the ordinary to send her to a place where she could get plenty to eat and be cared for otherwise.

Be careful about fire. If a building was to take fire in Dahlonega it would be a hard matter to save the town as there is no water there scarcely and no way to use it except with buckets if there was an abundance. One or both of the public pumps are nearly always out of order. We believe it would be a good idea to pull them out, throw them away and put well buckets into use again. They are the cheapest and can be kept in order.

The house of Frank Lowery, Col., who resides about two miles out on the Dahlonega and Cleveland road, was burned between one and three o'clock Friday morning together with most everything he possessed. The origin of the fire is unknown. Many of the people of Dahlonega who sympathized with this inoffensive negro man and his family in the loss of many years labor, made very liberal contributions the next morning, which is a great help to one in the time of need like this.

C. Gaines, the stranger who came here during the summer and took down sick has recovered so as to be sent to the Paupers Home in this county. During his long spell of sickness he was well cared for by the city council and the good people who lived in the neighborhood where he was down. He was very low at one time and if he had not have had the best of treatment he would have died. He has a mother in Habersham but she was too poor to help or even come to see him. No doubt his life was saved by falling into the hands of kind people.

B. R. Meaders has returned after some days absence down in Middle Georgia.

Virge Moose, one of the strongest democrats in the county failed to vote for Bryan. Ask him why.

Col. A. K. Scott, of Canton, Ga., was in the city this week visiting relatives who are attending the college.

Another petition is being signed by many asking that a bridge be built across the Chestatee river at Neisler's ford.

Before visiting Dahlonega consult the columns of the NUGGET and give those who advertise with us your patronage.

Miss Mand McGuire, after spending a week or so in Atlanta, returned latter part of last week having enjoyed her trip very much.

B. R. Meaders & Sons will soon commence making some improvements on the John Simmons buildings, purchased by them some time ago.

Strange things will never cease. We noticed in the wagon of Sol Walden recently a measure made from poplar bark which held four and a half bushels.

We are glad to state that M. C. Martin, that clever and accomplished gentleman who has been preparing nice steak at John Moore's market will soon be at his post of duty after several days sickness.

Mr. Mayne only spent one night in Dahlonega. He left here for Tennessee to be gone for a short while when he stated that he would return to Dahlonega, and some think that he will open the eyes of the natives then.

Just before the frost a green stalk of corn with a tassel and silks could be seen up at Jim Grizzles, Jr. This has been a wonderful year and second crops of many vegetables would have matured had they been planted.

Our attention was called to a little squib written by one of our enemies last week intimating that the blowing of our coat tail exposed a pistol. This is all imagination. We can protect ourselves from all such persons as he is with a tooth pick and a Palmetto fan.

Too many persons have been skipping their board bills in Dahlonega recently to make it pleasant for the proprietors of the same. The legislature has been legislating on less things important than this. Now let us have a law that will cause all such "skippers" to suffer.

T. H. Clark, of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived in our city a few days ago and will quite likely remain several months. He is the owner of some beautiful town lots located up on the Mahew road a short distance from the court house, a map of which some of you have probably seen.

One of our Columbus, Ohio, subscribers writes us that the package of NUGGETS that city of Nov. 2nd failed to reach its destination. We also have other complaints. Our mail is made up with a mailer and addressed plainly by the same and can't see why papers should miss going.

Wylie Mobley, after remaining here for some time skipped out the other day in the direction of Cleveland, Ga., leaving a board bill unpaid at Capt. J. W. Woodward's. While in Union he fooled members of the church and was allowed to unite with them. This manner of deceiving folks will come to an end one of these days by him receiving a just reward.

Mr. John Jackson's family have probably arrived from Pikes county by this time for the purpose of making Dahlonega their future home. Mr. Jackson has been in the employ of the Consolidated Co. for some time running the air compressor, giving such satisfaction as to get permanent employment. Besides this John is an old Lumpkin county boy and we gladly welcome him back to together with his family.

The county buildings are needing attention.

For SALE.—A good two horse wagon. Apply at this office.

F. H. Kennedy has gone to Atlanta on a business trip.

Remember if you want good bargains that Copeland is the place to get them.

Mrs. Annie Aiken, after an absence of some weeks in Atlanta has returned home.

John Chapman and lady of Silver City, paid Dahlonega a visit last Saturday and Sunday.

The Crown Mountain Company have changed their pay day to the 15th instead of the 10th of each month.

Wanted, by the Union Store Co. corn, fodder and meal for which the highest market price will be paid.

We are pleased to note that Choice E. Randall an old Dahlonega college boy was elected to Congress from the 5th Congressional District of Texas.

Quite a number of Marietta's citizens have been up to Dahlonega since our last issue visiting relatives, being Mrs. Geo. S. Owen, Clyde and Eugene Matthews and Miss Jennie Hughes, all of whom took in the interesting sights at the Consolidated Co's gold mines while here.

The first ice of the season here was seen last week, causing the leaves to deaden and the flowers to bend their heads and bid us adieu for the present year. The birds have hushed their voices and no music is heard now except the cricket in the hearth, causing it to be the saddest season of the year.

John Bennett, Will Crisson and others have been after John Chatten and Dick McDonald, charged with breaking into Mr. Bennett's store a few nights ago, ever since Sunday morning. They were located Saturday night at a still house near the foot of the mountain, Chatten having his Winchester. Nothing has been heard from the pursuers since they crossed the Blue Ridge.

From the present indications it seems that there is going to be several applicants for the Dahlonega postoffice which will bring about much hustling among the applicants and their friends. Judge Brittain, the present postmaster, informs us that he will be on the track again. E. S. Copeland is in the field and we learn that B. F. Anderson, Jr., will appear, and some others are expected, some of whom have already commenced soliciting the names of signers to their petitions. Who will be the lucky one we are not wise enough to tell.

The Acworth Post suggests that the children should be provided with home amusements these long winter-nights. Times are quite different now than when we were young. Parents then kept their children at something that was beneficial. About all the amusement children got then was a few hours on Sunday when they were permitted to ride a stick or corn stalk for a horse. We used to hand in thread for an old fashion loom, spin and knit socks and half handed gloves. If any one disbelieves this let them bring around their knitting and we will enter a contest for a prize. It's true we never liked this kind of past time more than a boy does to wash his feet or have his head undergo a combing in search of insects, and doubtless we shed enough tears from all these childish troubles to create ample water for common use fish pond. We could not see any use then for a boy to learn to do all kinds of work, but we can now. Should our patrons fail to give us sufficient patronage at the newspaper business we can take in knitting and office. Let every child be taught to do something. If they do not have to work when they grow up it will not injure them to know how.

J. R. Palmer has sold out and moved to Gainesville.

G. C. Wallace's residence will soon be ready for occupancy.

Sheriff Davis is very bad off yet and has appointed Jap Williams to act as his deputy.

The rafters of the court house caught a fire yesterday from the chimney causing a litter stir.

Postmaster Brittain has been absent from the office this week on account of having the rheumatism.

F. L. Murray and G. L. Fisher of Chicago, Ill., have located at Auraria together with their families.

Clyde Meaders requests us to ask the one having his crutches to please return them, as some one else may need them.

George Duncen is a hustling mechanic. He has built more houses in Dahlonega this year than any other mechanic here.

MULES WANTED.—40 mules are wanted by B. R. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga., for a while a liberal price will be paid.

It will be seen that D. C. Stow has already received a large supply of coffins, caskets and coffin fixtures and asks the public for a share of its patronage.

B. F. Anderson has sold his lot recently purchased from M. G. Head to G. McGuire and will locate his store house at some other place when he goes to build.

FOR SALE.—A 40 acre lot of land within one mile of Dahlonega. Also to rent for twelve months an eight room house. Apply or address Clyde H. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga.

We still call your attention to the fact that the NUGGET has the largest circulation of any paper either published in Dahlonega now or at any other time. If we can not prove it we will not charge you anything for your advertisement. Isn't this fair?

The Atlanta News and Journal did not give any of the college boys who attended the oratorical contest in that city recently a very good send off, but on the other hand said that they misbehaved badly. Last year when the University boys conducted themselves so badly nothing was said about it, but when the other boys joined in it was more than they could stand this time.

We call your attention this week to the advertisement of T. J. Smith to be found in this issue. Mr. Smith was born and reared in this county, has been doing business at Porter Springs for years and is too well known to you for any comment from us. Recently he sold out to his brother at Porter and located in the J. M. Brookshier stand with a well assortment of goods. Give him a trial and you will be treated right.

Last week Mrs. R. H. Baker and Mrs. R. C. Meaders and their children did not resume their journey to Swainsboro, Ga., as they expected. Upon arriving in Atlanta and stopping with Mr. Frank Baker, it was discovered that one of his children had the scarlet fever, causing them all to return home at once and house themselves up after using every precaution and suggestion made by a physician possible and are now waiting developments. So far no symptoms of the disease can be seen and it is not likely now that any of them will take it as the time limit is nearly out.

Mining Notes.

The Lumpkin Mine has shut down for the purpose of re-organization.

Mr. Hewitt is engaged in some development work down on Battle Branch property and the prospects are good.

At the Palmour mine the new mill is running, having been in operation about ten days and the plates are showing up well.

The clean ups at the Consolidated get better every time, the last one being so much as to cause all parties interested to be very jubilant. We understand that more hands will be added.

Bob Poston's vein down at the Calhoun is still increasing in richness. It is now worth 25 pennyweights to the ton. With only a mortar he has made about eight hundred pennyweights in five months.

A clean up at the Whorton mine on the Calhoun property last week is said to be the best yet for a long time, amounting to hundreds of pennyweights, and quite a lot of nuggets, the largest weighing eight and a half pennyweights.

Mr. Ashley has returned from the north, making arrangements to work the beds of the Chestatee river and Yahoola creek with dredge boats. He has already purchased Mrs. Hilyer Reese's farm on the river and secured leases on other property.

A very rich strike was made over across the Chestatee river by Frank Crisson last week, on either the Mitchell or Consolidated property, being near the line. It is reported that he made a fruit jar of nuggets in a few days. However he will do no more work until the line is run.

The Dahlonega Gold Mining Co. are getting in their machinery and are long we may expect to hear some good reports from the celebrated Briar Patch, this being a part of the company's property. The two big boilers are in position and about 30 men are at work pushing things forward with a vim.

Great progress is being made in the work of Crown Mountain which is very encouraging to its management and all others interested. The big turbine wheel for the company has been successfully placed in position and the representative of the company returned north first of the week. The telephone line from the mill site to the power plant at Seabolt shoals is in operation and is proving a great aid in carrying on the work. While this is going on prospectors are engaged in opening up new veins on the property.

Daniel Shaw, one of the wealthy residents of Toledo, Ohio, and a prominent stockholder in the Consolidated, has been the guest during the past week of Vice-President G. H. Breyman of the company. Mr. Shaw, who is a most careful and conservative gentleman, has been making a most thorough investigation of the possibilities of the company and has hesitatingly states that the company has in its mines one of the biggest things extant, only that it will require time to develop the mines. When this is accomplished the Consolidated need have no fears but that its stock will more than quadruple in value.

Mr. Shaw enjoyed his visit very much and he regretted very much that business engagements in the North took him away so soon. The NUGGET was glad to have Mr. Shaw visit our city. His opinion has weight, and what he says has its influence.

Shaft No. 1 on the Consolidated property has now attained a depth of about 140 feet. It is the purpose of the management when the shaft is down about 100 feet to drift out on the numerous very fine veins known to exist in the vicinity of the shaft. At the present depth the shaft is down to the bed of the Yahoola river. The management of the Consolidated are confident that at this depth some very fine ore will be struck. Never in the history of the Consolidated Company have the prospects been so flattering for success as they are to-day. The Company has gotten to that point where the most rigid economy is being exercised in every department. Under the able administration of Vice-President G. H. Breyman everything connected with the works are running like clock work. The men know that under Mr. Breyman they will have to do their work and do it well. There is nothing like business methods in every thing and the NUGGET is glad to state that with the Consolidated nothing but business is being done in every department. In the main tunnel back of the mill, the main header tunnel has gotten into the mountain side about 500 feet. It is expected that within the next forty or fifty feet that the celebrated Knight vein will be struck. The general public can then rest assured that the ore gotten from this vein will be something extra fine. We can truthfully state that never in the history of the Consolidated Company has its prospects been more flattering than they are to-day. It is true that some disappointment was experienced in the fact that the top ore did not pan out as well as those having in charge of the mill at first supposed they would. However the prospects of fine ore at depth has never been discontinued and the NUGGET confidently predicts that when the workmen begin to drift from the main shaft at a depth of say 100 feet that they will strike ore that will be a surprise to all deep mining is the proper course to take in the Dahlonega field.

The pupils whose names appear on the roll of honor were perfect in deportment and maintained an average of E (not below 90) in attendance and studies.

Grade IV.—Isabelle Charters, Pearl Anderson, Annie Watts, Nina Wallace, Milly Worley.

Grade VI.—George M. Stanton. Grade VII.—Willie A. Reese, Fern Gaillard, Mary Eliza McAfee, Wannie Wallace, Montie Moore.

S. R. Prater & Son are butlers. Now as cold weather has arrived they will constantly keep on hand the best cheese and Gainesville link pork sausage. The fact is when you can't find what you want in town go to the Country Store as the old man is on the streets all the time with cash in hand to buy meal and such other country produce as is necessary to supply his customers.

Auraria has lost two of her citizens since our last issue, being Mrs. Green Smith, who died on Sunday, aged about 70 and Henry Trammell aged 25, who departed Saturday night last very suddenly. He had gathered corn all day apparently in perfect health and that night his folks heard him fall from the bed and life was soon extinct.

Solicitor General Charters has been attending a special term of Hall Superior Court this week, trying Will Evans for the murder of Merck, Judge Candler presiding. Excellent legal talent is employed on both sides. The defense is that Evans shot Merck in self defense, but the jury has not decided yet. At 10 o'clock yesterday the Judge ordered the jury before him and told them that they must come to some decision.

New fodder sold at $2.25 per hundred in Dahlonega last Wednesday but the bundles were extra large.

Moral Courage.

The most pitiful paradox in nature is physical bravery allied with moral cowardice. A man may be as brave as a lion when it comes to a personal encounter, where mere brute force is all that is required, but if he has not the moral courage to do right for the sake of right, he is a detestable traitor of mankind. No man need be afraid to do right. He may avoid the consequences of a fistfight and still be braver than Caesar.

It takes a fine sense of courage and a pure heart to be able to acknowledge an error and endeavor to repair a wrong and the man who can do it deserves all praise from his fellow men and God will not withhold from him his just reward. If we were true to our nobler and better instincts, temptations would not find us so vulnerable to every assault, but too often we are led astray by our selfish motives.

The thing to cultivate is not so much of iron muscle, but a heart of steel, yet sufficient to resist every temptation. The least sin possible is the hope of mankind. Absence of sin is a dream of angels. —Ex.

Alford, the defendant told the First National Bank of New York, is a conscienceless thief. He expressed no regret, no repentance, for having stolen nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. His comment when arrested was, that having taken life to its full extent, at the rate of $50,000 a year, he was willing to throw up his hands and take his sentence. It appears that under the law he cannot be sent to prison for a very long term. He probably regards the imprisonment he will undergo as cheap compensation for what he has enjoyed. His wife and children, meanwhile, must all their lives remain under the stigma of his crime. Men of his class care nothing for shame they put upon women and children. —Marietta Journal.

A Peep Into The Past.

KATHERINE ALLERTON.

I went into the attic one rainy day to tidy up its belongings. Back in a dark corner I spied a box, which in the busy turmoil of life I had let slip from my memory. I pulled it out into the light and sat me down to enjoy the fond memories it would recall. With reverence I opened the box and my mind flew back to the past. Glancing through my old school reader I saw the names, "Mary, Martha, Lula, Lura, Lizzie, Matt, Anna, Emma, Etta, Clara, John, Louis and Frances, — Our Class." Yes, our class, and those were my classmates in the long ago. For several winters we played together, we worked together, we shared our joys and sorrows and often when the teacher's back was turned, helped each other over knotty points. We made souvenir cards for each other and gave our little remembrances, and with happy thoughts of childhood's days I read, "Don't forget the mouse funeral." "Remember the day we kept the teacher in." "Whatever you do, forget not Timbucktu." "Place flowers on the squirrel's lone grave each May day that we may never forget the dear little spot in the Cale woods," and many, many others, each recalling some dear, forgotten memory.

Rev. Ellison R. Cook, P. E.

The following tribute to presiding elder Cook written by Dr. N. F. Howard appears in the Wesleyan Christian Advocate:

"The administration of our present presiding elder Ellison R. Cook, who is just completing his fourth year has really been remarkable. I want to say in all candor that considering him and his work from all standpoints we never had a more successful worker or better all round man in this district.

In the pulpit he is a power. I have seen the multitudes moved under his preaching as in the old days. He always preaches well, and the people love to hear him. As a presiding officer he is considerate, courteous and kind, yet clear in his decisions and firm in his administration. He is a man of judgment and great tact and is perhaps more universally beloved than any man who has ever been on the district. He is progressive and up-to-date in his methods. He does more detail work, writes more letters, sends out more stirring calls, makes more trips, travels more miles than any presiding elder I ever knew. His work has resulted in educating our people, elevating their standard, systematizing the work of the stewards, and in advancement and development along all lines. All that I say concerning him and his work is true. Why should I wait until he is dead to say it? He has for four years gone cheerfully forward serving faithfully and well the hardest appointment in the North Georgia Conference, and richly deserves all the kind things the people are saying of him and his wife (who is a helpmeet indeed) as their term of service comes to a close."

The new game law requires parties who desire to kill partridges and sell them to first go to the ordinary, register and obtain a license, for which he must pay $2500. This license does not give him the privilege of hunting on another's land, except upon the consent of the land owner.

like to hear from, write to one or visit her if you can, it may be she needs you. Though times and change have come between, no doubt she's kept your memory green and would be glad to hear once more from those she loved in days of yore. Oh, then my sister, why not write? Perhaps 'twould be a beacon light that shineth through the dark day, to cheer her on her weary way. Perhaps her life's oppressed with care or filled with joy she fain would share. "In either case 'twould do you good To have your friendship now renewed. And share your joys and sorrows too. As in childhood's days you used to do. And life's pleasures or its pain we sometimes wish we were young again, Did I say young? We're always so, we don't intend to older grow. A few less ruffles, a few less pies will give us time to clear our eyes And see again as in childhood's day The beauty strewn along our way; And help us too, our love to show To absent friends of long ago." — EX.

Reflection of a Bachelor.

The most uncommon thing in the world is common sense.

Every old bachelor cheats some woman out of a family.

Marriage was invented to show that there were two sides to every question.

If nobody was ever able to forget there wouldn't be any people in the world but pessimists.

As soon as a child gets old enough to be spanked its mother begins to tell it that "it breaks mama's heart to do this."

A man never asks a woman to forgive him unless, in his heart, he thinks he he hasn't done anything.

If I had made man I would have given him two noses; one to wear on his face and the other to have colds in.

Until a man has been married two or three years, when he talks politics his wife always looks at him like she wondered why people didn't mob the house and take him away to be president.—New York Press.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, Fred Miller, a member of our class was on Nov. 2, 1900, suddenly called from labor to his reward,

Therefore, be it resolved by the members of the B Sub—Freshman class of the N. G. A. C.,

That while humbly bowing to the will of Him who doeth all things well we hereby express our deep sorrow for the loss of our classmate and friend and most worthy and promising young man—cut down in the flower of his manhood.

Resolve, That we extend to his relatives and especially to his mother and sisters, who are our college mates, our warmest sympathy in this time of sad affliction.

Resolve, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the parents of the deceased, and also the same be given to the White and Lumpkin county papers for publication.

W. W. STANTON,
C. F. CHISSON,
E. C. GURLEY, Committee.

The report shows that the total loss, killed and wounded for nine months in the Philippines amounts to about one thousand. This seems large but during the civil struggle it wouldn't have amounted to a drop in the bucket.

Our friend J. B. Brown's premises have been receiving nightly visits for the past week or so by something which he can't even guess at what it is. It has killed one house cat, cut an others throat besides killing several of his chickens. Mr. Brown is a Methodist minister who does not like to see chicken meat wasted in this manner, especially when he has to raise them himself. Poor chickens. They have no protection. The members of the legislature have thrown their strong arms of protection around the possums and birds but the chicken is not thought of only during meal time.

It is reported that Mr. Bryan, the defeated candidate for president, has refused to accept a position on the editorial staff of a Colorado paper at $10,000 per annum. Mr. Bryan is not very needy else he would have accepted.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little men- strual disorders started at that time grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are killing graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tully, Kan. "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything, in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Theodore's Black-Draught, when needed, and today I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 23, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

New York and Ohio had a heavy fall of snow on the 15th.

In 1806 McKinley only carried 23 states. At the recent election he carried 27.

A bill is before the house to repeal the act establishing county teachers' institutes.

Six negroes escaped from the jail at Jackson, Ga., the other night and so far only one has been captured.

Three hundred gallons of blockade liquor were captured by the revenue officials near Clarksville, Ga., the other day.

The dog law was repealed in the house last week. This is the right move. Now let the senate do likewise. The vote stood 106 to 23.

Maj. Hanney, of Atlanta died one day last week from an old wound received during the battle of Monocacy in Maryland on July 9th, 1864.

The re union of the confederate soldiers in Augusta last week was largely attended and an occasion that was enjoyed very much. The next will be held in Macon.

Will A. Crawford who figured so conspicuously as a witness in the case of Will Evans of Gainesville recently, guilty of the killing of Merck, has been bound over in a bond of $500 charged with perjury.

The present legislature should let the child labor bill go until a more sober body of men get in power. The trip they made to the state fair and their actions on the way should convince all of this fact.

The state has no right to build Atlanta a depot and the senator or representative who votes for such an act should be spotted and numbered with the retired list. Atlanta is fully able to build all the depots she needs.

A move on the part of several hundred strikers made themselves very troublesome at Tampa, Fla., last week, by pouring leaden hail into a cigar factory for the purpose of running the laborers in it off and stop them from working.

The Cumberland Nursery, of Nashville, Tenn., contrary to law, has been shipping fruit trees into Georgia that are infected with the terrible and destructive San Jose Scale. State Entomologist Scott, has seized and burned three car loads of these trees.

On the 16th inst., at Limon, Col., Preston Porter was burned at the stake for outraging and murdering little Louise Thort. The sheriff was on his way to take the negro to prison when he was overpowered and the negro carried off where three hundred citizens engaged in the killing, the father of the murdered girl touching the match.

Tom Chapman, who was sentenced to the chain gang for two years for arson in Hall Superior Court and carried the case to the Supreme Court skipped out as soon as it affirmed the decision of the court below, leaving his bondmen to sweat to the tune of $750. J. H. Martin and T. V. Eberhardt were on his bond. Chapman sold his farm last summer leaving nothing for the officers to get.

The Atlanta Constitution favors the dog law it says because it protects the raising of sheep. The present dog law has been left optional with the grand jury of each county for the last twelve months and has never been in force in any county yet. This shows sufficiently that the people don't want it. It may be that some one has lost a sheep but the dog is a great protection to the women and children throughout Georgia, especially in the mountain counties. Kill the widow's dog and who will protect her and her daughters?

Mr. McAfee introduced a bill in the senate last week to pension James Elkins, a Confederate soldier of Lumpkin county.

The Boxers are very cruel. They make human torches by oiling and firing the bodies of native converts and cut slices of flesh from priests while they are living.

The soldiers home bill is before the legislature again. You might leave it to a vote for all the needy confederate veterans to decide the matter and the majority would vote against it. They don't wish to leave all their kins people and humble little cottage to go to Atlanta among strangers to, die matters not how poor they are.

The jury in the case of Will Evans, charged with the murder of Ed. Merck on the night of the 15th of April in Gainesville, Ga., returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter Thursday night after being out from 1 o'clock Wednesday. Judge Candler sentenced him to serve seven years in the chain gang. It is said that the prisoner took his sentence quietly and seemed pleased at the result of the jury's verdict.

In a recent report it is shown that there are 645 convicts now in the penitentiary for burglary, 472 for murder, 232 for attempt to murder, 303 for manslaughter, 116 for rape, 111 for attempt to rape, and that these in addition to those convicted for milder offenses make a total of 2,258. There are 454 life sentences and terms ranging from 1 to 35 years. Among the convicted are 7 school teachers, 1 physician, 1 journalist and 8 preachers. There are 78 women convicts only 3 of whom are white.

The promoters of the electric railroad from Clarksville to Naacoochee have about $20,000 of the capital subscribed and will at once apply for a charter. This matter was first brought to the attention of the public by The Record some two months ago in connection with the vast water power at Soque shoals. Since that time the matter has taken definite shape, and in the near future the hopes and anticipations of the public will be gratified and the road pushed rapidly to completion.—Record.

Every editor has received them, says the Newspaper Maker. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance, there was a man by the name of, well—say Tim Short, who sent us three notices to stop his paper; he didn't want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigating the subscription book we found that Tim was short $10. He had never paid a cent and stopped the paper as a matter of economy—tous. He didn't want us to lose any more by him. A few days later he was at church and his melodious voice rang out loud and clear in that stirring old song, "Jesus paid it all." He might have been mistaken but his earnestness impressed us. So the next day we sent him a receipt in full and begged his pardon for not knowing he had made an assignment of liabilities to the Lord.—Exchange.

A fellow-devil tells us that an editor once dreamed that he died and wended his way to where he supposed a warm welcome awaited him. The old cloven-footed fellow who keeps the place met him at the door and said: "For years thou hast borne the blame for many errors that the printers made in the paper. Your paper has gone, alas for the $1 that, too often was not paid. Men have taken the paper, never paying for it, cursed the editor for not getting up a better one. Thou has been called a dead beat by the passenger conductors when thou hast shown thy annual pass to their envious gaze. All these things hast thou borne in silence. Thou canst not enter here." With these last remarks the editor was ruthlessly fired bodily from that place. Then the old fireman reflected: "Heaven is his home, and besides, if we let him come in here, he would be continually stirring up a racket by dunning his delinquent subscribers, of whom this place is full.—Ex.

The citizens of Dahlonega were very much surprised and sorrow stricken last Tuesday when the news came over the wires that Mrs. Estes, the wife of the Judge of the Superior Court of this circuit was dead.

Call and see us. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

The legislature held no session last Saturday as it is almost an impossibility to keep the members on that day. Representative Bruce came home and spent the day with the boys. On his return he was appointed as one of the committee to examine the convict camps in which there are now nearly 2,3000 wearing the striped suits and toiling hard because they have violated some law.

A mass meeting of a portion of the citizens of Denver, Col., had a gathering on the 18th inst., condemning the burning of the negro who only a few days ago outraged and murdered a little white girl. But each and every one in this meeting can be forgiven as they had never had any child or relative treated in the way that poor girl had been. These meetings amount to nothing. Let justice be done though the heavens fall.

On last Wednesday at 10 a. m. Mr. L. O. Simmons, of Atlanta, was wedded to Miss May Reese, of Dahlonega. Rev. Mr. O'Kelly, pastor of the Dahlonega Baptist church officiating. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mrs. F. L. Reese while the groom is one of Atlanta's most popular young men. The first acquaintance they formed was while they attended the N. G. A. College several years ago. Both have a host of friends here who congratulate and wish them a long, happy and useful life. Those in attendance were: Mrs. S. O. Meaders, Mrs. Mamie Aiken, Miss Fannie Gaillard, Miss Marie Gaillard, Miss Annie Worley, Miss Maud Worley, Miss Maud McGuire, Fannie McGuire, Miss Nannie Wheelchel, Mr. Clyde H. Meaders, Louie Meaders, Mr. Stewart Henderson, of Dahlonega, and Miss Mattie Harris, of Hoscht-on, Ga., Miss Ethel Harris, of Murrayville, Ga., Miss Kate Russell, of Athens, Tenn., and Mr. Earnest Simmons, of Atlanta, Ga.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 23, 1900.

Mrs. O. J. Lilly is on a visit this week to her relatives at Silver City.

New subscribers still continue to come in by those wishing to know what is going on in this section.

Joseph Christopher presented us with two of the biggest potatoes of his raising, last Friday. They were certainly fine.

MULES WANTED.—10 mules are wanted by B. R. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga., for which a liberal price will be paid.

Seth Duncan got full enough of intoxicants Friday afternoon to cause him to have to stay in the lock up all night.

Edward Peacock, who left here last June is now at Idaho Springs, Col., superintending for the Edgar Consolidated Gold Mining Co.

And still another wedding is booked to take place in Dahlonega soon which will be somewhat of a surprise to both the bride and the grooms parents.

The patrons of Crumby's office have decided not to let that office be discontinued. Mr. Coldwell has sent in his resignation as postmaster but John McGee has taken it.

FOR SALE.—A 40 acre lot of land within one mile of Dahlonega. Also to rent for twelve months at eight room house. Apply or address Clyde H. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga.

A few days ago some unknown person shot at Siloam church. The ball passed through the wall of the church and struck the stove pipe. The person doing this is certain to come to some bad end.

By referring to the acts of 1898 you will see that the time for holding the election for Justices of the Peace and constables has been changed so as to come off on the first Saturday in December which is not very far off now.

It will be well enough for you to remember that all male citizens twenty-one years of age who have resided in Georgia twelve months, in Lumpkin county six months and in Dahlonega six months can vote in the councilmen election on the 15th of next month.

Judge Prior and Col. Howard Thompson, of Gainesville, came up last Friday and remained until the next day. While here they visited the Consolidated Co's big plant. The Judge was very much surprised at what he saw down there, it being his first trip.

J. K. Mincey was captured by the revenue officials last Friday in Nimberville district running an illicit distillery, who was brought to the city by Deputy Marshal Grizzle and after having a hearing before Com. Baker was bound over for his appearance at the U. S. Court in Atlanta. Mr. Mincey is no stranger to the U. S. officials as we understand that this makes the fifth time he has been before them.

We are pleased to state that neither one of the families of Col. Baker or R. C. Meaders, who were exposed to the scarlet fever during their trip to Atlanta some time ago, have taken the disease. They kept themselves closely confined in a room until the time was up and never came out at all for fear they might be taking it themselves and endanger others. This unpleasant confinement and fear would not have occurred had the physician in Atlanta, whose duty it is to look after such things performed it. Scarlet fever had developed at the residence where Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Meaders stopped two weeks before they visited the place, but the Doctor told the residents that he would not tag and have the building quarantined if they would keep away all children. Such negligence is the cause of the spread of contagious diseases often and the physician, whoever he is, should be discharged from his official position by the authorities of that city.

Mrs. J. F. Castleberry went to Dawson county last week on a visit to her mother.

Walt Jenkins got boozy enough last Monday to find his way into the calaboose. Also again on Tuesday.

Vicco Mae, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Copeland who has been quite sick for some weeks, is recovering.

Miss Lilian Bell went home with Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Bell last Monday to see her mother who is very sick in Gainesville.

H. D. Gurley has finished his new store house and left for New York last Tuesday for the purpose of getting goods to fill it.

Some of the children desire to know whether there is going to be any Christmas tree. If so they will commence going to Sunday school.

On the 20th is Thanksgiving Day. Have you received anything to be thankful for? If so this is the day set apart to eat turkey and offer thanks.

Several northern gentlemen are here looking over the mines. Some are already directly interested in them and the others if not all will soon become so.

If Hicks meant his prediction for Dahlonega he missed it. He predicted a cold wave for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, but instead we had a very light warm rain.

We are told that hog thieves are occasionally getting in their work out in Davis's district, and farther out in the Western portion of the county cattle are sometimes missing.

Prof. Martin, the principal of the graded school has been absent from the school room several days this week on account of sickness. Mr. Shultz has been occupying his place.

Some time ago Good Free and his wife dissolved copartnership and on last Saturday the husband was arrested on a possessory warrant and all the things they had levied on, caused by the wife who claims them. Trial takes place to-morrow.

Just think about it. One dozen nice well finished pictures can be had at the gallery of the Dahlonega Portrait Co. for fifty cents for the next fifteen days. Gallery next to Masonic building. Carry all your children while this opportunity is offered.

Lots and lots of shoes at Anderson & Jones. They also have a gun for everybody, and the cheapest clothing ever offered in Dahlonega for the money, overcoats, overalls, jumpers, sweaters, etc. This is the place when in need of shoes, clothing or anything else to trade.

Seth Grindle was caught in an illicit distillery by the revenue officials last Saturday, only a few miles above Dahlonega. Seth was caught right in the act of preparing the much loved liquid for his customers. He was bound over and carried to Atlanta on Tuesday where he will be put in jail and not allowed a visit from Santa Claus when he comes.

Although Lumpkin county is destitute of any railroad her population has reached the 7,488 mark, being an increase of 566 since the previous census report. The population of Dahlonega is 1,258, the increase of the county being in Dahlonega. The population of the town district outside the incorporate limits is 373, total for the district 1,631. The biggest portion of this increase has been in the last two years.

The target practice between the Nugget and Signal has ceased by mutual agreement. We were not mad at each other no way. Only keeping in practice in case we had to shoot at any one else. Editors mustn't get mad because after departing from this world they might be given the golden harp to play on and if there are any hard feelings between them the instruments and their voices wouldn't cord and they would fail to entertain the few spectators that will be there.

Coment for sale by J. F. Moore. W. G. Campbell, of Dahlonega, has raised over a hundred bushels of sweet potatoes on his garden this year.

Attorney Bryson has also purchased him a town lot down below Col. Prices who has ordered lumber and is preparing to build a residence.

Sweet potatoes are dull sale in Dahlonega now. Some of the farmers last week had to sell their loads at 15 cents per bushel rather than haul them back.

Old Uncle Wm. Ravan, of Chestnut district, comes to the front this week with a sweet potato weighing nine pounds and three quarters, being the largest heard of. Next.

Stay postoffice, recently established with A. J. Edge as postmaster, is now in "running order" making it very convenient for the citizens of the neighborhood in which it is located.

A printer can tell every honest man that he has dealings with. They do not want the printer to furnish him a paper for nothing and try to shun him while owing him for his hard earnings.

A night or two after the colored Methodist preacher closed a two weeks protracted meeting and left quite a number of his race together and had an all night dance in a building within fifty yards of the church, limbering their joints so as to be ready for Christmas.

A lady and her sixteen year old son, of Ananias district, made with their own hands more than 200 bushels of corn this year, besides an abundance of potatoes, turnips and everything else that grows on the farm. This shows what perseverance and energy will do.

Who are you going to select for the next aldermen? A person so often gets deceived in some of them after voting that he almost feels like taking them as they come. It is a hard matter to get a body of men to do their duty a year unless they are getting something for it.

Dolia Coffee, col., the wife of "Babe" Coffee, died in Dahlonega last Saturday. She was a colored woman that attended to her own business and let everybody elses alone, and was liked by both white and black. She was buried the following day in the honors of the Colored Odd Fellows.

Our smectum was visited on Thursday last week by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Clark, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who have been spending a week or so in our city. They left with us a dollar for the Nugget which will keep them posted about their interests here as well as all other local matters.

You will observe by referring to the tax collector's notice elsewhere that he closes his tax book on the 20th of December. The law fixes this date and you need not expect the time prolonged. However, if you don't get up your tax money by that time you need not trouble yourself about it. He will get it.

There is such a demand for liquor in Dahlonega that when the blockers fail to come it is gone after. A few nights ago a certain married woman and her admirers got so thirsty that they couldn't wait and all went three or four miles out into the country where they got a supply and sipping the yessel so often before returning that they got not only to loving each other but everybody else. Oh what a happy occasion.

A wedding took place last Sunday which surprised the young lady's parents and everybody else, the contracting parties being Mr. Milt Loveless and Miss Ida Roberts, daughter of Mr. A. L. Roberts. The young lady stepped off Sunday to attend Sunday School, her parents thought, but she was on another mission and the next time they heard from their daughter the news reached them that she had married. Esquire W. J. Worley officiating.

We are pleased to state that sheriff Davis is improving.

Miss Maggie Crisson is off on a several days visit down the country.

Col. Charters is down about Florida this week in search of the finny tribe.

The rainy weather this week has somewhat retarded all kinds of outdoor work.

G. McGuire is greatly improving his building lately purchased from Judge Brittain.

The Crown Mountain Company have put a nice little boat in their lake down in the lower edge of the city.

J. F. Moore, manager of Crown Mountain Co., went to Gainesville Tuesday to contract some hauling for the company.

The intoxicating bitters and mean liquor that are sold in Dahlonega is causing some of the boys to pay out hard earned money.

Miss Mattie Harris, of Hoschton, and Miss Ethel Harris, of Murrayville, have been on a visit to their friends in Dahlonega this week.

There will be a box supper given on next Wednesday night at the court house by the ladies in the interest of the Presbyterian church. Everybody invited.

WANTED.—Wood choppers to cut several hundred cords of 4 foot wood. The cash paid and good price given. Apply to J. W. Rider, mouth of Yahoola creek.

Some days ago little Frank McDonald stamped his toe causing him to fall against a stump and break one of his arms. This shows how badly a person can get hurt some times when it is least expected.

Judge Tate has been having the slight damage to the court house caused by fire repaired, and early last Wednesday morning it being too wet to work on the roof Luther Hightower went up in the garret to see about his tools and just as he entered the stairway he met a strange woman coming down the steps. It being rainy and wet it is supposed that she slept up in the attic where it is high and dry.

It's right funny. Some time ago one of the best men in Dahlonega and a strong advocate of temperance, rented a stranger a house. Great crowds would gather about the strangers place, and in a short time the effects of liquor could be seen, which caused the owner to become suspicious and watch. It didn't take long for him to find out that the corn juice was being sold right in his yard. It is useless to say that his neighbors have to move.

On Tuesday in the absence of Mayor Price ex-Mayor Ingersoll fined the following persons to wit for drinking and being disorderly: Jake Dawson $5 and cost, Seth Duncan and Pierce Edmonson $2 each and cost. Dawson besides carrying a big rock in his pocket resisted arrest. Being unable to arrange his fine he was put back in the calaboose. That night when Marshal Harrison went to take out another prisoner he unfortunately left the key in the door and when he returned the calaboose was locked and both the key and prisoner gone, probably to join Geo. Richards who has left for another climate, having two cases of disorderly conduct booked against him here. At the convening of the Mayors Court Tuesday night the fines and cost amounted to $30, being John Watts $3 and cost, Will Brooksher $2 and cost, Walt Jenkins $1 and cost in two cases, Bob Thomas $3 and cost. All the parties were charged with drinking and being disorderly except Will Brooksher and Jno. Watts. It seems that Watts had escorted Will Brooksher's sister home contrary to his wish the other night when a word or two passed and Will vipped Watts on the forehead with a ground biscuit, resulting in Watts receiving a demerit besides a fine and cost.

Two weddings occurred in the upper portion of this county since our last issue, being Joseph Bonner to Miss Mary Porter, and Barney Jarrard to Miss Martha Grizzle, daughter of Marvin Grizzle.

The visit to Dahlonega Saturday night of some blockader caused a number of persons to feel quite jolly the next day. Some of them being church members, rendering them unfit to attend religious services that day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Murray, of Auraria, spent a portion of Friday and Saturday in Dahlonega. Mr. Murray is now located at Auraria so as to give the mining operations at the Briar Patch his personal attention, which is being pushed with a vim.

Several of the Dahlonega cadets are making an effort to visit the inauguration of the president at Washington city as suggested and offered by the Atlanta Journal. It promises to be a lively contest and the five boys having the most influence will get to be there on that great day.

We were a little surprised on learning the other day that one of the economical members of the city council said that the notices of registration and election were too long and expensive, when they were so short that the dates were left off and even the name of the town or city where the registration and election were to take place were not mentioned in the ad. We thought this was a very economical way of doing business, especially after so much money has been spent in the beginning of the year in creating mud holes.

Presiding Elder Cook, of Dahlonega, and Rev. Mr. Verdell, the pastor of the Methodist church are now attending the annual conference in Atlanta. These two ministers are dearly loved by the people of Dahlonega all of whom would be glad for Mr. Verdell to be returned as he suits the people and the people certainly suit him if they will always after listening to his interesting and instructive sermons, govern themselves according to the instructions given by this faithful expounder of the gospel. And most certainly everybody would like for Mr. Cook to come back but he has been with us four years, the time limited by the rules governing the Methodists and it can't be expected. But let him be located either far or near there will always be a warm spot in the breasts of the citizens of the entire community for this good man who has done so much for the cause of religion everywhere he has gone.

On last Friday afternoon John Bennet and Will Crisson arrived from Ducktown, Tenn., with Dick McDonald, one of the parties who broke into Mr. Bennet's store in the western portion of this county some weeks ago, taking fifty dollars in money and some shoes. John Chatten, the other party connected with it is still at large. McDonald was captured on Wednesday night at Mrs. Weatherows, in which he was boarding, going by the name of John Cornet, having reached there only a few days previous and worked a day or so. McDonald gave his pursuers no trouble for they were in the house and at his bedside before he knew anything about it. He made a full confession, saying that he and Chatten were drinking at the time, but that he had none of the money—Chatten didn't divide. The store house in which Wier postoffice is kept is located a short distance from Mr. Bennet's residence, who frequently goes out to the store after night and writes awhile, but the night on which the robbing was done he failed to go. Quite likely it was very fortunate that he didn't as McDonald stated that it was their intention to kill him if he had made the usual visit. The defendant was tried before U. S. Commissioner Baker last Monday and committed to jail in default of a $1,000 bond, who was carried off to Atlanta by Marshal Grizzle on Tuesday.

Mining Notes.

Some part of the air compressor down at the Hand broke last Monday which will somewhat retard the work until a new piece can be received.

Mr. Ashley is building him a house over on the river so that he can have a place to lodge at conveniently during the construction of his two dredge boats, the lumber for which is being received now.

Work is moving right along at the Briar Patch by the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., under the supervision of Mr. Murray. It was expected that they would get their charter last week but Judge Estes couldn't come up to grant it on account of the serious sickness of his wife.

Mr. Packard, of Turkey Hill, is very much elated over a gold mine he possesses in Fannin county. He says that it is not richer than the Turkey Hill but the quantity of ore seems abundant. The ore shows no gold but when you beat and pan it it shows to be very valuable. He says that there are several veins which have been followed until they run in to one, forming a large mass of ore that would be the biggest thing in the whole country if he had a 120 stamp mill like that of the Consolidated. Pieces of ore weighing tons contain gold in paying quantities.

A survey made last Saturday shows that the recent rich strike made by Frank Crisson is on the Consolidated Co's property. Mr. Huff informed us last Saturday that it is on the Boile Fields lead. This alone is enough to convince all the old people here acquainted with the Fields vein that this is a good one. Many hundreds of pennyweights of gold were taken out before the vein was lost. It was struck in the edge of the river requiring dams to be built in the stream in order to work it, and a person could stand away out on the bank and plainly see the gold in the vein. The one discovered by Crisson is also very rich. It is reported that he made several hundred pennyweights in one week by the use of a morlar.

The Crown Mountain Co. are getting in the hoops for the big tube and will begin at once setting the staves. Carpenters are working on the power plant building. A new survey for the pipe line was made last week, and the pump supplying water to the reservoir on Crown Mountain will be located on the river some three quarters of a mile distant and will discharge through a twelve inch pipe. The apparatus for the Crown Mountain laboratory arrived several days ago and gives the company one of the finest and best equipped assay offices in the country. Numerous assays have been made from different parts of the property. An average sample from the Stanley shoot runs $65, one across the eight foot Sand vein on Columbia lot ran $17, and an average of the Preacher $106.99 to the ton. These results cannot but be gratifying to those interested in the enterprise.

W. J. Worden, of Chicago, Ill., dropped in to see us last Monday while down looking after his mining interests here. Mr. Worden owns stock in both the Crown Mountain and Consolidated gold mines, and after making an investigation expressed himself as being highly pleased with the progress of the work of the former and perfectly delighted with the results being received at the Hand mill. The clean ups are better each time. One drawback has been the scarcity of water rendering them unable to run but few of the stamps until the recent rains. The water is gradually increasing enabling all the stamps to be run a portion of the time. The ore in the big tunnel gets richer every week, proving beyond a doubt that the veins increase in richness the deeper they are followed, some figures to this effect will be given next week. The cars commenced running again last week hauling ore from the Knight. The value of the stock has increased and the Consolidated mine is on a boom.

Louisville, Ky.—A verdict for $50,000 was returned in the circuit court in the suit of J. H. Higginbotham, administrator of M. J. Johnson, against the New York Life Insurance Company, on a policy for the amount of $50,000, in the event of the death of the insured. Johnson was an agent of the company and lived in Garrard county, Kentucky. In July, 1900, he took out a policy for $50,000, it alleged, giving in payment a note. The insurance company contended that this note was never paid, and that Johnson acknowledged he could not pay it. The note was returned to him, destroyed and the policy canceled. Johnson's administrator claimed that the note was accepted in whole or in part as payment by the company.

A woman frequently carries her handkerchief up her sleeve and a lot of dress samples in her stockings. The woman who doesn't sit down on the floor to put on her shoes is almost as queer as the man who does.

The clever woman is the one who can make a man think she is obeying him while all the time she is really "bossing" him. According to a woman "the best way to punish a girl who goes back on you is to make a great success in life and marry prettier and better girl."

Marry for Love.

Money and titles will always promote marriage. There never was a time when men would not marry for wealth rather than worth. There was never a time when women did not prefer position to principle.

Within conservative limits it is right that women should choose as a husband the man who has or cansteine the best position in life. It is proper, too, that a man should not despise the property that may come with a wife. It is only when wealth is sought, instead of the wife, or when position is sought more than the man is loved, that courtship becomes a mockery and marriage proves a failure, if not a social crime.

There has never been a more obvious and radical illustration of the mistake, the meanness, the vulgarity and the misery of a marriage for title and wealth than that of Miss Anna Gould, of New York, to Count Boni de Castellane, of France. One had a title that was not equipped with wealth nor conspicuous for honor. The other had wealth associated with a name and a reputation that brought no fame, if they did not bring shame, to the children of Jay Gould, the railway wrecker. Anna Gould had wealth enough to purchase a title, hence when the fortune hunter from Paris came here five years ago a match-making woman got $50,000 for bringing them together.

Now this story of Anna Gould and her foreign count bears its own moral. The lesson is too obvious, as to foreign counts, to need comment. It exploits itself.

But there are girls who have not the opportunity to marry counts, who might study the story carefully in order to know how to marry men. There are men who might study it in order to marry a girl for what she is rather than for what she is worth. It is not necessary to go abroad to contract a false marriage. Any marriage not prompted by love brings disappointment, misery, disgrace. Such failures and calamities occur here, in the less notable walks of private life. They always entail sorrow or sadness. They never fulfill the promise of a better station in life for the woman, nor provide the fortune the spendthrift expects.

There is but one bound for marriage—That is love. No matter what the station in life, no matter what the conditions of the man and the woman, if the marriage tie be not mutual love then neither wealth nor title, fame nor grandeur, can prevent the calamity of a misalliance.—Portsmouth (N. H.) Star.

The expense of refitting army transports during the past fiscal year amounted to $8,800,312. In addition to this more than $7,000,000 was expended on the transport service, nearly all on account of the Philippines. The troop ships carried out 46,870 men to the Philippines and brought back 20,654, many of the latter being sick or wounded and ready to become pensioners.

A Bride's Letter.

A well-known young lady recently married, has an elderly friend, a man who knew her as a child and all up through the years. A day or two previous to her marriage he sent her some beautiful roses, accompanied by the following unique letter, which may reveal his identity to his friends, as it is so characteristic:

My Dear M—: I have sent you a few flowers to adorn the dying moments of your single life. They are the gentlest types of delicate and durable friendship. They spring up by our side when others have deserted it, and they will be found watching over our graves when those who should cherish have forgotten us. It seems that a past so calm and pure as yours should expire with a kindred sweetness about it, that flowers, music, kind friends and earnest words should consecrate the hours when a sentiment is passing into a sacrament.

The three great stages of our being are the birth, the bridal and the burial—to the first we bring only weakness; for the last we have nothing but dust—but here at the altar, when life joins life, the pair comes throbbing up the holy union whispering the promise that warms each other's heart to help on in the life struggle of care and duty. The beautiful will be there borrowing new beauty from the scene, the gay and thoughtless with their frills, flounces and frivolities will look solemn for once. Youth will come to gaze upon the object of its secret yearnings, and age will totter up to hear the words repeated, that to their own lives had given the charm: some will weep over it, as if it were a tomb, and some will laugh over it, as if it were a joke. But two must stand by it, for it is fate, not fun—this everlasting locking of their lives, given and forgiven, bear and forbear, kiss and make up, live while you live (don't just exist.) And remember the banister of married life is full of slivers, and when you hit the slide you are apt to pick up a splinter or two.

And now, dear, can you, who have quenched it so many bending forms, can you come down at last to the frugal diet of a single heart?

Hitherto you have been a clock, giving your time to all the world; now you are a watch, buried in one particular bosom, warning only his hours and ticking only to the beat of his heart, where time and feeling shall be in unison, until those lower ties are lost in that higher wedlock, where all hearts are united.

Hoping that calm and sunshine may hallow your clasped hands, and that God will bless you—for Him we trust (all others pay cash.)

I sink silently into a signature, yours 'till death and as long afterward as they need me at the morgue. Auf Wiedersehen, adieu.

Confectionery,

Charles Steinbrink, who was convicted at St. John, Kan., on forty-nine counts of selling whiskey in violation of the prohibitory law, was fined $4,900 and sentenced to nine months in jail. As he cannot pay his fine he will, under the law, have to serve it out in jail at the rate of 50 cents a day, making his total jail sentence practically thirty years and nine months.

Many lives were lost in the tornado which passed through Tennessee and Mississippi last week. Fiftyfour were killed and fifty-one injured.

A Gruesome Tragedy.

At the muzzle of a revolver Charles A. Smith, formerly a Wash. Railroad conductor, compelled patrons of Jacob Koller's saloon in Chicago, to listen to a lecture on the evils of intemperance. Then pressing the weapon to his head, he blew his brains out in the midst of those standing around him.

Holding a glass of liquor in his left hand Smith drew a revolver from his pocket with the other and ordered every one in the saloon to remain quiet and make no attempt to leave.

"This is to be my last drink," he said. "You may call it a farewell if you wish.

"All you fellows had better quit drinking. Look at me, I've lost my position with the railroad company, and every cent I have scraped together since has been spent for liquor.

"Remember this little lecture, men. Brace up and leave liquor alone."

James Irwin and Peter Nies, who were standing near Smith, thought the latter intended to hold up the saloon and they attempted to escape.

"Hold on, there!" commanded the man with the uplifted revolver. Smith then ordered the six men, including Timothy Foley, the bartender, to line up in front of the bar. They did so.

Then the desperate man pressed the pistol against his head and sent a bullet through his skull. He died instantly.

The New York World says: "The first pension on account of the Chinese war has been granted. Our Philippine pension list will be long without a doubt. And 35,000 claims for Spanish war pensions have already been filed and about 2,500 of them allowed. Positively will have to pay the fiddler for our war dance."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 30, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

What did the people of Galveston, Tex., have to be thankful for yesterday.

Isn't it reasonable to believe that Mr. McKinley enjoyed his turkey yesterday and felt more earnest in his thanks than Mr. Bryan?

We have not heard of any of the members of the legislature getting on a rare last week. Too many preachers in the city for them to indulge much.

The official vote of Georgia has at last been made known. It is as follows: Bryan $1,700, McKinley $5,056, Woolley (prohibitionist) $,393, Barker populist 4,584.

We favor biennial sessions of the legislature and the time changed for convening to August when it will be too hot for its members to drink liquor and attend horse races.

J. P. Foghley, after being postmaster at Swainboro continuously for more than twelve years, has resigned. He wishes to step down and out so as to give others a chance.

Jas. R. Grant, editor of the Clarksville Record, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace of his district. This shows that Bro. Grant is in no way hogwash about honors as he only asks for them in small doses.

What is the reason that the members of the Georgia legislature didn't attend the horse swappers convention which held a three days session at Toccoa last week? This is about the first thing that they have missed.

It is reported that Emiline Whitehead, a negro woman residing in Atlanta, was found the other night with a bullet hole and one hundred stabs from a knife in her body. Whoever did it didn't mean for any doctors bill to have to be paid.

The legislature killed the child labor bill this week. This is right. Let the legislature devote its time to something more important and parents control their own children. There is already enough laziness without the legislature encouraging it.

On the 21st inst. a tornado in Colorado swept the railroads for hundreds of miles. Roofs were blown from moving freight cars and the damage is great. In Arkansas it wrecked many farm houses and in California the damage will amount to thousands, the railroads being the worst sufferers.

The annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue just issued at Washington shows that there was collected in Georgia and reported to the commissioner during the last fiscal year $917,892.03. There were more stills seized in Georgia than any other state. The number seized was 673. There were 90 stills removed and 245 arrests.

Georgia should give the old needed confederate veterans their little mites and let them remain the rest of their lives at home in their own native counties. They prefer their little log cabins and small plank building to a fine modern structure. Another thing: The most of them are getting old and it would be impossible for them to live agreeable in the same building.

Mayor Woodward and Dr. Broylton, of Atlanta, poured hot shot into each other the other night. The divine accused the mayor and policemen under him of laying around and drinking liquor and gambling, when Mayor Woodward stated that it was a falsehood and applied the word "cur" and "carriage row" to the well known minister, who for some time past has been paying more attention to the mayor than to the saving of sinners souls.

Additional Locals.

Santa Claus will make his headquarters at B. R. Meaders & Sons. John B. Stringer has returned from his visit to the Indian Territory.

W. B. Shropshire, after being in Dahlonega some months, left for Lexington, Ky., yesterday.

It caused one of the members of the church to curse a little because he didn't get his choice in preachers.

We welcome to our city G. W. Hubbard and family who have moved here from Chattanooga, Tenn.

It was right cold here first of the week but the snow didn't get nearer us than the top of the Blue Ridge.

WANTED.—Six miners. None but steady workers need apply. Call at Calhoun mine Monday morning.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court is going to effect the wild land sales in this county as none are legal according to the ruling.

U. S. Deputy Collector Richardson and Marshal Grizzle offered thanks yesterday on the fly, boxing out in the mountains after blockaders.

The Grizzle boys in Nimblewill district were knocked out of their thanksgiving offering on account of the revenue officers getting their still a few days previous to Thursday.

A little child of John Robinson, Jr., residing near Dahlonega, caught a fire while standing in front of the fire place last Monday and was injured so badly that it died shortly afterwards.

Mr. Pilla a commercial man was here last Tuesday for the first time in many years. He brought the first mail from Marietta via Cumming after the war. Only four letters were in the sack, but the mail gradually increased, he said until a stage had to be used.

A little twelve or fourteen years old boy was in the other night trying to engage liquor. Parents should not put their children between them and the law. Don't teach them to violate the law. They will learn to do so early enough.

The box and oyster supper came off at the court house Wednesday night. Of course it was well attended as some people who are unable to pay for their paper and even owe for the socks they wear can afford to give two or three dollars for a small box worth about a quarter in the presence of ladies.

Cornelius Gondlock, col., was up before Mayor pro tem Ingersoll Monday for disorderly conduct, making several times right recently. He had met some boys with a lantern the night previous which he kicked out of their hands and cut a high shine. Five and cost was the sentence or 18 days on the streets. Cornelius is a bad boy and if he does not mend his ways at an early period he will get into the state chancery gang.

We have been asked by subscribers why it is that sometimes they get their Nugget with their names torn off. It is because postmasters can't find theirs when called for and give them some one else's. We hope this will not occur again. If postmasters can't find a man's paper when he calls for it, let the subscriber report the matter to us and we will supply them. In this way no one will fail to get their paper.

Four years ago to-day we took hold of and commenced the publication of the NUGGET. During this time we have seen much pleasure intermingled with trials and tribulations—made many friends, acquaintances and a few enemies. Received sufficient support from the former however to keep us alive and kicking. To them we return our heartfelt thanks and to the latter we ask that the Lord will bless them, the devil miss them and the devil kiss them, is our prayer. Amen.

There is no use of sending off in search of any one in needy circumstances to give your money when they can be found right here at home. A family lives within a few hundred yards of the court house in the worst condition imaginable, being that of Newt Moore, living in a little house up at Prof. Gaillards. The nan has a wife and four little children. He has been reduced to almost a skeleton from typhoid fever and looks as if he would pass away at any time. They have nothing to eat except what Mrs. Gaillard gives them. All the children are thinly clad and barefooted. All the beds clothing in the house is over the sick man and it is very little, not enough to keep him comfortable. In fact they are in the worst condition of any people ever heard of in Dahlonega before. When Marshal Harbison was made aware of the fact last Monday afternoon he and Judge Britain made a contribution and his daughter went over town soliciting others but not a cent could she get. The people of the county are taxed to help such cases and the money is in the treasury but the ordinary won't authorize any of it paid out unless parties are occupants of the pauper's home. The wife made a living at washing until her husband got so sick that she had to give it up in order to wait on him. What will become of them? Must they perish in a community where there are five or six churches? Even five or ten cents each from a few would be a big help to this needy family. Only a few months ago a big robust able bodied man, riding in an elegant buggy drawn by a fine horse came through town, who stopped long enough to perform some slight of hand tricks and made several dollars. Men and boys followed after him, some of them being church members, eager to give the stranger money. Religion! did we hear you say? Where is it?

Last week at the North Georgia Conference in Atlanta Rev. C. S. Owens, of Augusta, who had been suspended on three charges, being drunkenness, using vile and harsh language and breach of promise, was acquitted, although he acknowledged to being guilty of the first two charges; but as medical men decided that he was not morally responsible it was decided to let him go with the hopes, we suppose that he would sin no more. It may be that it is best for the girl that he didn't marry her for we judge that a preacher who tips the glass until his head swims, either sick or well, would make a very poor companion, saying nothing of the small influence he would have as an instructor of the Bible and temperance advisor.

It has been demonstrated clearly that some of the citizens of Georgia have made very unwise selections in men to represent them in the legislature. One county sent a man to help frame laws for them who didn't even know how to turn off the gas and the result was when he went to Atlanta to take his seat at the opening of the present session, he inhaled about forty feet of gas at his boarding house, resulting in the physicians having to do a whole lot of repairing in order to save his life, who was patched up enough to permit his return home the other day without ever seeing the interior of the capitol.

Rheumatism.

Nobody knows all about it and nothing, now known, will always cure it.

Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food. You can do the same.

It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not, you will do no harm.

The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health.

When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it don't, it don't cure. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 30, 1900.

The members of the K. P. Lodge had an oyster supper at the court house last evening.

J. H. Jenkins is preparing for the construction of a dwelling on his lot down below Col. Prices.

A vacant house belonging to Mrs. Sarah White, of Frog Town district, was destroyed by fire a few nights ago, supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Our sanctum was made bright last Monday by the appearance of three of Dahlonega's prettiest young ladies, being Misses Florence Rice, Eliza and Jessie McAffee.

FOR SALE.—A 40 acre lot of land within one mile of Dahlonega. Also to rent for twelve months an eight room house. Apply or address Clyde H. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle and others got on hot track of John Chatten last Saturday, who is wanted for breaking into Wier postoffice, but John dodged them and is still at large.

Lost, stolen or estrayed, a Shepherd dog about a month old, tip end of its tail white and white spots on neck. A liberal reward will be paid for its delivery to F. M. Meaders, Dahlonega, Ga.

The election for Justices of the Peace and Constables take place tomorrow but so far we have heard of but one candidate either office in the Dahlonega district. Three are out for Justice of Auraria district.

The most attractive occurrence recently was a white woman the other day while full of both fun and liquor holding up her skirt dancing in the road by music made by two colored musicians, while others looked on.

A number of Georgia weeklies offer premiums in order to induce people to subscribe to their papers. We do nothing of this kind. The Nugget is worth one dollar a year and if any one differs with us in our opinion he need not take it.

Some few nights ago while tax collector Sargent's boys and others were out hunting the dogs tread and when the hunters arrived at the place they found a large skinned sheep hanging to the limb of a tree. The matter was reported to Mr. Sargent, who went with his gun and watched for the thief the rest of the night, but he failed to return.

David Jarrard, of Porter Springs district, waived examination and gave bond last Saturday on the charge of killing Jake Postell's hog for his own use. The defendant claims that it was his own hog which he purchased from Wm. Postell, a brother to Jake, who is now in another state, while Jake says that it is his. So the courts will have to decide it.

Last Sunday night the attention of the neighbors were attracted to the screams of something similar to a panther out near the colored Methodist church. The marshal was notified who was soon on the spot and found Aaron Stephens, col., trying to get his wife home who had taken on most too much of the overjoyful causing her to feel like squealing.

On Monday night the North Georgia Conference adjourned in Atlanta to meet in Rome next year. Said to be the most interesting meeting ever held. The number of districts have been reduced from thirteen to eleven. The Dahlonega and Carrollton districts having been abolished. Dahlonega is now in the Gainesville district with Rev. Walker Lewis presiding elder and Rev. Wallace Rogers stationed at Dahlonega. Former presiding elder Cook goes to Washington in the Athens district and Rev. C. M. Verdel, the last preacher at Dahlonega is located at Buchanan in the Rome circuit, and Rev. D. M. Edwards has been returned to Villa Rica.

Judge Tate is also an applicant for the Dahlonega postoffice.

R. C. Wood, after spending some time in this section left last Friday for his home in Florida.

Miss Lula Bryson and Mr. Henry Kerns were wedded in this county last Sunday by Rev. Marion Taylor, of Dawson county.

We notice that V. R. Hix, one of the best and most popular young men in the county, is behind the counter at F. L. Reeses.

If you wish any kind of jewelry manufactured from Dahlonega gold call on G. H. McGuire, in new building below Masonic Hall who will fit you up upon short notice.

T. J. Smith has purchased Mrs. J. M. Broaders stock of millinery goods which she is now offering ladies hats and other articles cheaper than ever sold before in Dahlonega.

We are requested to state by G. H. McGuire, to say to all who are owing him, either by note or account, to come in and make immediate payments as he wishes to begin the new year with a clean sheet.

Mr. Isaac Reid was wedded to Miss Ida Clements, daughter of Mr. Joseph Clements, on Thursday evening of last week by Rev. W. T. Dowdy. The happy young couple has our best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Henry Johnson, the janitor of the college, brought to our office last Saturday a good size ripe apple grown on the ground of this institution, being the second growth, also a third bloom of this fruit tree for the year. Isn't this a fine country for fruit? Ripe apples and blooms on the tree at the same time is equal to Florida orange trees.

It seems that some of the parties who married in this county a few days ago are hard to get pleased—determined to get a husband or wife that suits them. In other words it is their aim to marry for love, but after the knot is tied find that they have been mistaken. The reason we say this two of those recently married have already been wedded and their first selected partners are still living and no divorce have been granted or even asked for in either case.

Our office was visited last Friday by L. K. Donavin, of Columbus, O., who was accompanied to Dahlonega by Col. Geo. B. Donavin, J. C. Rogers, El West, of the same city, and Col. M. M. Gillette, of Newark, Ohio. It is the first visit for Mr. West and Col. Gillette. All came down to visit the mines and look over the yellow belt, especially that owned by Crown Mountain. The new comers saw enough to convince them that an investment here would be safe and governed themselves accordingly by taking stock in Crown Mountain.

Country editors certainly have a heap of ups and downs—mostly downs, at least a great number of them do. You will visit ones sanctum and find him quietly seated in an old rickety chair with the bottom half gone, a portion of the patch on the bosom of his pants hanging down and his elbows sticking through his shirt sleeves, being perfectly sockless with his feet encased in a half tanned pair of shoes and corns all over his toes as big hotel bed bugs, writing up society news and telling the farmers how to plant their crops in order to produce a large yield, and at the same time maybe some fellow is strutting about who owes him a dollar for subscription to his paper, that is wearing socks made of silk, a gold ring and a fine cane with his body laced up in an expensive corset. And right then the farmer he is advising could sell enough potatoes to pay the editor for his paper and have plenty left to do him a whole year. It's no wonder that there are so few editors in the church, for if they were called upon tell their experience could relate nothing the Lord had done for them only given them only a biglot of delinquent subscribers.

WANTED.—Wood choppers to cut several hundred cords of a foot wood. The cash paid and good price given. Apply to J. W. Rider, mouth of Yahoola creek.

Some of the students dressed up in female attire last Saturday night and passed off for strange girls just arriving in the city, who had many admirers until they were found out.

Our informant was mistaken about Mrs. Green Smith passing away some days ago. We are glad to say that the old lady is still alive and trust that she may be spared much longer.

Many of your subscriptions to the Nugget expire to-day. Be ready and awaiting, not for the bridegroom, but yet editor and renew if you wish to support a paper which turns the light on all alike.

Miss Nevada McDonald died near the Barlow mine on Thursday night of last week of consumption. She was the daughter of James McDonald who died here many years ago. Was very poor, had no friends and but few relatives, causing her to have to be buried at the expense of the county.

Some of the dormitory boys succeeded in getting one of their room mates out snipe hunting last Saturday night. It was very dark and raining but he was told that it was the best time to bag this kind of game. After getting him off as far out into the woods as desired they ran back to town leaving their victim in a strange place.

Some hours afterwards they returned to the dormitory to take a big laugh, but the young man was not there. They waited until getting uneasy about him and returned to where he was last seen but could not find him. A second fruitless trip was made. The next morning he was still missing and they went out in the rain for a third hunt but no where could he be found. Later on when a big crowd had congregated upon came their victim. He had been persuaded by other room mates that night when he returned to go some where else and stay, and all the time that they were trudging through the rain and mud the young man was soundly sleeping. So the joke was turned and they could only grin while he and the rest of the boys laughed heartily. Brother Craig, of the Gainesville Eagle probably remembers something about snipe hunting.

We feel confident that a railroad will never be built from Gainesville to Dahlonega. It has been tried for years without any progress being made whatever. That city wants no road to Dahlonega. It would be easier to raise $40,000 in Gainesville for the defeat of a railroad to Dahlonega than to get $100 for it. They don't want us to have a railroad but if one is to be built here her citizens would of course wish it to connect with Gainesville. A railroad to Dahlonega would cut off much of the mountain trade now going to that city and injure it which her citizens know and they will throw every obstacle in the way of one being constructed here just as long as they can. Now Gainesville has been tried long enough. Let us drop Gainesville and listen to parties in another city that mean business and are anxious for a railroad to Dahlonega who don't have to beg or borrow the money but have it in the bank. Those citizens reside in Atlanta. They would be more than gratified for a railroad to run from that city to Dahlonega but say that they do not wish to begin it the way things stand now for fear that Gainesville would pitch in and build theirs before Atlanta could reach us with one, and in this way stop its progress and ruin Atlanta's enterprise. The way things are now Gainesville won't help build a road herself nor allow any one else to do so. We feel confident if Col. Price, who controls the charter of the Gaines and Dahlonega railroad, would cancel all propositions for the construction of a road to Gainesville for a period of two years that we would see the great iron horse coming in from Atlanta long before this time expires.

John Spencer, the foreman of the mechanics down at the Hand now, gives satisfaction to his employers and besides is liked by every man in his charge.

Last Saturday while two young students, Farkas and W. B. Oaks were boxing they got mad causing the former to stab the latter some two or three times in the arm, one being a very ugly gash near the muscle. Farkas was put under arrest by and officer of the day and Oaks wounds were dressed by Dr. Jones.

One case of scarlet fever has developed in Dahlonega, being a little negro child of a family who came from White county in September, locating in the far end of Albert Coffee's house near the foot of Crane's hill on you side, Clarksville street, the yellow flag being hung out on the building by City Marshal Harbison as soon as it was pronounced to be the fever by Dr. Wheelchel, which was on last Saturday afternoon. The child had been sick about two weeks previous to the visit of Dr. Wheelchel, who soon ascertained the trouble after an examination. How or where the patient contracted the disease is a mystery as it is the only case known of for miles. But little fear is entertained of its spreading as the officials have an eye to their duty, and it's very much like the Irishman's grave yard, no one will want to go to the place. Sissums is the family's name having it.

A 'possum supper and dance was enjoyed by the dark skinned residents of Dahlonega last Friday night over at Perry Andersons and the way those niggers devoured that 'possum meat and hid those big fine yam potatoes and shook their feet was a sight. Many of the church members lay away their meeting house slippers and took a part in the ball while those being too stiff from old age stood and watched, wishing that they could be young again just for to night. Several enjoyed corn juice refreshments made on some clear stream which caused them feel so happy that they gave some extra steps—two married women having spices present particularly. They chambered enough of the splendid 'possum gravy and excellent essence of corn to cause them to rest their weary heads on first one shoulder and then the other and knock the back step and cut the pigeons wing till nearly day light.

We have nothing to relate this week exactly of a sensational nature that we can think of. The nearest thing to it being the case of Joe Bonner who recently married near Porter. He had not seen or heard from the one to whom he was wedded in two years. Soon after he returned to this county he met this woman. After looking at each other a few seconds he asked her to be his and she consented. In fifteen minutes he was on his way to Judge Tate's, who returned at once and wedded without any extra didos. No costly presents were given the bride nor no kinds of grain thrown at the happy couple by any attendants for none were present. No wedding march was played for there was not a musical instrument in the house, the occupants being used to no kind of music except that made by the wheel during the manufacturing of homespun clothing. This couple have wasted no time in courting but joined hands in short order and both gone to work to make a living. If more people would follow the example of these two times would be more prosperous in many families. Long courtships are useless. Two much time is spent by young men expecting to marry in coming their heads and waxing their moustache. Then there are the poor girls mothers. It is such a hardship on them to have to wash the supper dishes for two or three long years while their daughters stand in front of the mirror combing and primping getting ready for the one that is coming, saying nothing of the many new hats and latest style dresses that have to be purchased by their fathers.

Mining Notes.

The Crown Mountain mill is going up rapidly, the heavy frame work being well under way. New opening on the mountain are being constantly made and show up more and more the immense extent and depth of the great saprolite deposit. Some assays recently made give gratifying figures; an average sampling of the Wallace vein running $166.52 per ton, while the slate walling of this vein went $5.70 per ton. The canal was about finished last Saturday and attention is now being given to the big five foot tube. Quite a number of parties interested in the property have been here recently looking over it and all expressed themselves as satisfied that they own stock in one of the greatest gold mines in the world.

Prof. Yeates, the state geologist, makes this favorable report to the legislature about Lumpkin county's gold mines: The remarkable impetus, which has been given the gold mining industry since the publication of our report on the larger part of the gold deposits of Georgia, is seen most conspicuously in the organization of the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Company, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, and the purchase by that company of a dozen or more of the best known gold properties in Lumpkin county, and the erection of one of the largest gold mining plants in the United States, on one of its properties. The principal features of this plant are a 120-stamp mill, with all the modern improvements, and a chlorination plant, with a capacity of forty tons of concentrates per day. This company is doing extensive development, on some of its properties; and, it is said, with gratifying results. Between $400,000 and $500,000 have been expended by it, during the past year, in improvements and development work. The Standard Gold Mining Company, of Dahlonega, was organized last March, with a capitalization of $5,000,000. This Company, also, has invested in some of the best gold properties in Lumpkin county and I am informed that they are undertaking extensive work of development, with the view to erecting a duplicate of the plant of the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Company. The Crown Mountain Gold Mining Company, with a capitalization of $2,500,000, and the Briar Patch Gold Mining Company, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, have also been organized, with headquarters at Dahlonega. Each of these companies has purchased valuable gold properties in the vicinity of Dahlonega, and I am informed that they have provided for the building of large mining and milling plants.

Vice president and general manager Captain George H. Breyman of the Consolidated Gold Mining Company left on Monday noon for his home in Toledo, Ohio, with his wife where he will spend the Thanksgiving holidays. Captain Breyman since his arrival here some weeks since has had many things to encourage him in the development work at the mines. He has thoroughly systematized the work in this department and the same is being prosecuted with the greatest speed. The break down in the air compressor which occasioned about ten days delay has finally been repaired and the work of drilling is now being pushed with machine drills, thus greatly increasing the speed and efficiency of the same. In the new vein run into some weeks since in the Main Header Tunnel, the ore still increases in extent and quality. One most pleasing feature of this development is the fact that from recent tests of the ore made at the mill it has been determined beyond the possibility of a doubt that at this depth the value can be saved. A recent test of the ores in the Main Header Tunnel was made at the mill. This test was made on Nov. 10th. Thirty-eight tons of the entire matter of the vein was taken out, one half of this being milling and waste. The entire mass was run through the mill with the following result:

Free gold recovered on the plates 22 ozs. 6 dwts. amalgam. Concentrates 1708 lbs. An accurate statement at this time as to the value of the amalgam cannot be given, but taking the values as previously obtained, and which can be relied upon as about correct, the following figures can safely be given:

22 ozs. and 6 dwts. amalgam $110.50, 1708 lbs. concentrates $87.50. Total $198.00. On this basis, the amount recovered from the ore would average $5.21 per ton. If on the other hand only the clean ore had been run through, eliminating the waste entirely, the amount recovered would have been $10.40 per ton. We would state that the workmen are now in this vein some fifty feet and have been stopping for some days past. The ore as each shot is fired seems to be getting better if anything, it is certain that it is not decreasing in value. With ore of this value and the certainty also of being able to save the values, there is no question that, with the proper opening up of the ore bodies so that the mill can be supplied with ore, that the Consolidated stockholder has in his investment, a decidedly good thing. The Nugget has never for one moment doubted the fact that with depth the ores would increase both in extent and value. The practical tests recently made by the Consolidated Company, has demonstrated one thing to an absolute certainty, and that is that with ore taken at depth, the values can be saved on the plates and in the concentrates, while on the other hand the ores have been found to be refractory, in that the fine or flour gold would run off into the river in the tailings. Of the several tests made, we would state that one of them was from ore taken at the top of the Knight Vein. This test was from 25 tons of ore taken as above stated from the top of the Knight. It went in free gold and concentrates 1.49 per ton, value of the concentrates $18.73 per ton. Another test taken at a lower depth on the same vein showed values of $2.82 in free gold and concentrates, value of concentrates $54.60, while at a still lower depth on the Antonia Vein, a vein adjoining the Knight and lying near it, the values were $8.44 per ton in free gold and concentrates, value of concentrates, $95.00. From the above it will be seen that with depth the values increased and the ability to also save there values was also stimulated. It is now proposed as soon as the Shaft No. 1 back of the mill is down to a depth of 160 (present depth about 150 feet) that levels will be driven and the veins now tapped by the tunnel, will be caught at a depth of 100 feet lower. It is here expected that an immense body of very fine ore will be opened up, ore enough to keep the mill busy for all time to come. These practical tests are most convincing and demonstrate that gold mining in the South will soon be in its proper station.

Everyday Love.

A group of little girls were telling of the love felt for her mother; and, as the testimony went on, the strength of the statements grew, each child feeling obliged to surpass her mates. Finally, one said positively, "I love my mother so much I would die for her." The impressiveness of this declaration subdued the circle. The climax had been reached. A wholesome turn was given to the situation by the quiet observation of a lady sitting near. "It seems very strange to me that a single girl that loves her mother enough to die for her doesn't love her enough to wash the dishes for her." We who are older and know better require just such homely reminders to bring us back from our theories to our conditions. The love that is to "the level of every day's most common needs" is the only genuine kind.—Congregationalist.

The Irl R. Hicks 1901 Almanac.

Whatever may be said of the scientific upon which the Rev. Irl Hicks bases his yearly forecast of storm and weather, it is a remarkable fact that specific warnings of every great storm, flood, cold wave and drought, have been plainly printed in his now famous Almanac for many years. The latest startling proof of this fact was the destruction of Galveston, Texas, on the very day named by Prof. Hicks in his 1900 Almanac, as one of disaster by storm along the gulf coasts. The 1901 Almanac, by far the finest, most complete and beautiful yet published, is now ready. This remarkable book of near two hundred pages, splendidly illustrated with charts and half-tone engraving, goes as a premium to every subscriber who pays one dollar a year for Prof. Hicks' journal, Word and Works. The Almanac alone is sent prepaid for only 25c. Order from Word and Works Publishing Company, 2201 Loess Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Crowding out Negroes.

The Illinois Central and Louisville and Nashville Roads report that they have carried over 2000 Italians to New Orleans to work on the Louisiana sugar plantations. The Italians came mainly from St. Louis and Chicago, and were secured by the payment of large premiums. They went at once from the city to the plantation. There also arrived 2200 Italian immigrants direct from Palermo, who also went straight to the sugar plantations, thus adding in a single week 4200 Italian laborers to the already large force of laborers permanently domiciled on the plantations, and engaged in raising sugar. The planters declare the Italians are the best farm laborers they ever had, and they have crowded out, or are rapidly crowding out, the negroes from the sugar districts.

This year there has deserted from the United States army 3,903 men and from the navy 2,452 men making a total of 6,355.
